Germany Massing Two-thirds Of Fleet In Spanish Waters

French Squadron Exercises Off Algeria as Italian Ships Cruise About

British Anxiously Watching Events

BERLIN (AP)—Two-thirds of Germany's most formidable warships apparently were in or on their way to Spanish waters tonight.

Two of the three vest pocket battleships were on Spanish duty. So were four of the six German light cruisers, with the Reich and Italy now out of Europe's "hands off Spain" patrol.

The Reich kept her three antiquated ships-of-the-line at home, along with more than half of her smaller craft.

Three battleships, three heavy cruisers and two more vest pocket battleships are under construction, but none is completed.

FRENCH SHIPS EXERCISE

PARIS — A French warship squadron led by two heavy cruisers anchored today at Bone, Algeria, due south of Italy's Mediterranean island or Sardinia.

The French ships, two heavy cruisers, four destroyers and five submarines are units of the Mediterranean fleet.

They conducted manoeuvres by night, it became known today, jointly with French colonial coast defence batteries and infantry units.

In Paris French officials declared today any Italo-German attempt to patrol the Spanish coast without the authorization of the International Non-intervention Committee, from which both withdrew their naval patrol units yesterday, would be regarded as a blockade and, therefore, an act of war against Spain.

In such a situation, officials warned, France and Great Britain could not "remain indifferent."

BRITISH STATEMENT

The British ambassador at Berlin, Sir Neville Henderson, it was expected here, will outline such a stand to Konstantin von Neurath, German Foreign Minister, and propose that an Anglo-German pact be signed.

Canada's Premier And Hitler Will Exchange Views

King, Visiting Berlin Next Monday, Will Seek Better Understanding

PARIS (CP)—During his brief stay in Berlin Prime Minister Mackenzie King will have a frank exchange of views with Chancellor Hitler. An interview between the Canadian Premier and the German Fuehrer has been tentatively arranged for next Monday.

The primary purpose of Mr. King's visit is to do everything he possibly can to further the cause of international peace. He is not taking with him any plan. He hopes rather, by a friendly talk, to establish better understanding between varying viewpoints.

During his visit to Scotland Mr. King specially emphasized the need for goodwill in the conduct of affairs. It is largely in furtherance of that idea, it is believed, he is about to visit Germany.

Canadian delegations previously visiting London rarely included Berlin in their itinerary. Between London and Geneva they usually traveled by way of Paris. Premier King's idea is that the

BERRY LOSS 15 PER CENT

Rain Rots Strawberries Though Farmers May Still Salvage Crop

The unprecedented rain of the last two weeks has damaged at least 15 per cent of the strawberry crop, a survey of the lower island plantations this morning indicated.

The wet weather which was at first welcomed by growers became too persistent. Between 10 and 20 per cent of the berries picked today were rotten and had to be thrown away.

Managers of fruitgrowers' associations would not say whether strawberry growers have suffered any financial loss. They are hoping that if the present cool weather prevails the moisture will extend the crop to such an extent that it will offset the losses.

Hot weather now would scald a large proportion of the fruit.

JAM BERRIES

Owing to the rain more jam berries have been processed than have been sold. However, association managers believe they will be able to find an export market for the surplus.

The wet weather has caused some loss in the hay fields though any estimate at the present time is impossible. A lot of the hay standing in the fields is overripe and should have been cut some time ago.

However, farmers who have not cut their hay are far better off than farmers who had just cut their hay when the rain began.

The wet weather is expected to benefit loganberries and raspberries if it does not spread the dry-berry disease.

SIR F. FLOUD STUDIES WEST

British Commissioner, on First Visit, Talks Immigration and Defence

His first visit to the west is providing much to interest Sir Francis Floud, British High Commissioner to Canada, who arrived yesterday afternoon with Lady Floud for a stay which will last until Monday.

Holding, as representative of the British government, a position almost parallel to that of the Governor-General, the personal representative of the King, Sir Francis has been stationed at Ottawa for two and a half years.

During that time, he said in an interview in his suite at the Empress Hotel immediately after his arrival from Vancouver, he has never before come to western Canada. At present he is making a broad tour designed better to acquaint him with this end of the Dominion.

"You cannot realize what the west is until you see it," he said. "You cannot imagine its immense size and the immense area of land that is at present largely unoccupied. . . . I was especially interested in what I saw of farming on the prairies, because I was formerly with the Ministry of Agriculture in England."

Sir Francis said he particularly desired to see as much as possible of Vancouver Island, and was arranging a visit to the Fairbridge Farm School near Duncan, a project in which the British

Count Ballots In Point Grey

S. S. McKeen Asks for New Check in Vancouver Riding

VANCOUVER—Official count of ballots cast in Point Grey riding in the British Columbia general election began here today on demand of Stanley S. McKeen, member of the last provincial legislature who was defeated at the election June 1.

Returning Officer E. E. Thomas said the recount would take several days.

Final standing of the four leading candidates in Point Grey, which elects three members, was: R. L. Maitland (C) 10,298; J. A. Paton (C) 9,527; Hon. G. M. Weir (L) 9,008; S. S. McKeen (L) 8,918.

Ten candidates contested the riding, the largest in the province. Conservatives, Liberals and Co-operative Commonwealth Federation entered a full slate of three candidates each. The 10th was a Social Credit candidate.

The counting of ballots in the Victoria election continued today.

Island Mines Produce More

Vancouver Island coal production in May continued well ahead of last year, according to the B.C. chief inspector of mines monthly report today.

Total output for the island mines during the month was 62,683 tons, against 54,882 in May last year.

Comox Colliery was up 5,400 tons and the Northfield mine produced 10,269 tons. Western Fuel No. 1 was down 8,000 tons. In the East Kootenay district the output was down from 41,627 to 30,262 tons, so that the total B.C. Production went down to 102,926 tons, against 106,297 in May of 1936.

NO DECISION ON EVICTION

Principals May Agree Upon Solution Out of Court in Traffic Case

Principals in the traffic charge which followed the execution of an eviction order by Sheriff H. W. Goggin may adopt the suggestion of Magistrate Henry Hall and seek a solution to the question outside the court, it was indicated this morning.

When the case came up for judgment, C. L. Harrison, prosecutor, said he and Alan Maclean of the Attorney-General's Department, counsel for the defence, had agreed to a remand until Saturday morning.

Just before the court session, both counsel, with Sheriff Goggin, conferred for several minutes with the magistrate.

When the hearing was concluded on Tuesday Magistrate Hall said the two parties might come together and arrange a solution which might prove more satisfactory than his decision in the case.

The sheriff and his deputy, Robert Sangster, are charged with obstructing traffic in Superior Street by evicting household goods from a tenant's home and placing them on the street.

Britain Speeding Gas Mask Task

LONDON — Geoffrey Lloyd, under-secretary to the Home Office, informed the House of Commons today gas-mask production was still proceeding apace. He said 9,000,000 had been produced up to June 19 and that the Home Office was satisfied with the progress as it had a far larger number of masks for the civilian population than any other country.

Lumber Export Records Gains

United Kingdom Shipments Maintained in First Five Months

Overseas lumber exports from British Columbia in the first five months of 1937 ran about 9 per cent ahead of 1936, according to Pacific Lumber Inspector Bureau figures.

Total shipments, exclusive of the domestic U.S. and eastern Canadian sales, amounted to 388,076,303 board feet, the figures indicate, compared with 356,011,387 feet for the same period of last year. The gain was about 32,000,000 board feet.

The United Kingdom remains the biggest customer, taking 248,000,000 board feet, compared with 187,000,000 board feet last year. The domestic trade is below last year, dropping from 91,000 to 45,000,000 board feet.

May shipments held steady at 78,000,000 foreign, compared with 75,500,000 last May and 75,800,000 in April, and 17,224,000 domestic against 24,459,000 last year and 6,630,000 in April.

BERLIN (AP)—The German official news bureau reported tonight the Spanish insurgent cruiser Almirante Cervera had captured the Soviet freighter Kiban with a heavy cargo of "armaments."

The agency said the Soviet ship had been taken to the insurgent-held port of Malaga, Spain, with a consignment of "20 airplanes, 44 tanks, 8,000 rifles, 1,100 machine guns, 2,000,000 rounds of ammunition and 4,500 tons of other war material."

Italian Papers Attack Eden

German Papers Blame Russia and Britain for New Spain Crisis

ROME (AP)—A section of Italy's controlled press opened a personal attack today on British Foreign Secretary Eden, accusing him of causing the failure of four-power collaboration in regard to warring Spain.

Said the newspaper La Tribuna:

"European collaboration is shattered by the obstinate shortsightedness of Eden, evidently embittered by his forgotten successes."

(Mr. Eden's name was anathema to Italian Fascists during the Ethiopian war because he pushed League of Nations sanctions against Italy, which failed to stop the conquest.)

The press also published lengthy quotations of attacks on Eden in Germany's controlled press. But the tone of newspaper comment was calmer than yesterday.

REMAINING PROBLEM

Giovanni Engly, former editor of the Italian Foreign Affairs Review, said in the newspaper Lavora, Fascista the only remaining problem was whether "England and France desire the system of non-intervention to be really applied."

If those powers continue to observe neutrality, he said, the situation need not be dangerous to peace.

The warden is lying in a hospital here now while physicians study the extent of his injuries, suffered a week ago when his horses trampled him when frightened by a grizzly. It is feared pelvic bones are broken.

There was no explanation why bears which range through that country high in the mountains did not attack him during those six days while he lay helpless or crawled inch by inch toward his cabin.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) Governor George H. Earle today lifted martial law in the Johnstown strike zone, effective at 7 a.m. tomorrow.

"Apparently the emergency in Johnstown has passed," the Governor said. "I therefore decree an end of martial law at 7 Friday morning."

Governor Earle placed the strike district under martial law last Saturday and ordered closing of the Bethlehem Steel mill, where a strike had been declared by the Committee for Industrial Organization.

ARBITRATION SUGGESTED

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, proposed today the issues in the steel strike be turned over to President Roosevelt for arbitration.

"We publicly offer today our willingness to accept the President of the United States as the final arbiter in all questions of dispute," Murray told a press conference.

NO GENERAL STRIKE

WARREN, O. (AP)—Five manufacturers employing 1,000 persons closed their plants today in two Ohio cities, Warren and Niles, after the Committee for Industrial Organization had notified its unions to abandon plans for a general sympathy strike.

Officials of the Brainerd Steel Company, who declined to be quoted by name, said their contract with the C.I.O. was "no good." They denied there was a lockout at their plant, and said operations were curtailed, partly due to lack of orders.

C.I.O. unions had called strikes in a number of Warren plants yesterday in a move for a projected general labor holiday as a protest against a court injunction limiting picketing at the Republic Steel plant in Warren.

MEDIATORS IN SESSION

With the threat of a general strike over, Warren breathed easier, as the federal mediation board in Cleveland continued negotiations with executives of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, whose plants have been strike-bound since May 26 because of refusal of the management to sign labor contracts with the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, a C.I.O. affiliate.

"I am mighty glad it didn't happen," said Mayor G. A. Bjornson of Warren.

At Washington, Tom Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel, told

TACOMA — Jack Westland, Seattle, former Walker Cup player and man of many titles, was well on the way toward another today as he led Ken Black of Vancouver, B.C., in the round of 16 in the Pacific Northwest amateur golf tournament here.

Rounding the nine-hole turn of the Tacoma Country and Golf Club course, Westland had Black 3 down.

Lee Stell, Seattle, and Bill Yost, Tacoma, rounded the turn all square, as did medalist Albert (Scotty) Campbell, Seattle, and Carl Bowman, Yakima.

Don Moe of Portland, was 2 up on Bud Ward, Olympia, at the ninth.

Defending champion Harry Givan, Seattle, was 1 up on Bob Van DeMark, Tacoma, as they started in, while Don Thompson, Portland, held a two-hole advantage over Rudy Holm, Portland.

Sherman Elworthy, Seattle, eked out a one-hole advantage at the turn over Ralph Whaley, Seattle.

GERMANY MASSING
IN SPANISH WATERS

French fleet establish a patrol of the whole Spanish coast.

Only France and Great Britain, it was declared, retain the right to halt and search ships because the Italian and German fleets no longer serve in the neutrality patrol. But, because Rome and Berlin still are members of the Non-Intervention Committee, France and Great Britain would not extend their patrol without Italian-German approval.

ITALIAN MOVES

ROME (AP)—Italian warships patrolled the coast of Spain today under orders to strike back immediately and forcibly at any attack from the Valencia government.

Italy, acting in concert with Germany, withdrew yesterday from the non-intervention patrol to isolate the Spanish civil war, but the Italian fleet remained on duty off the eastern coast of Spain.

Its presence was stated authoritatively to be required to safeguard Italian interests.

The German and Italian fleet commands were understood to be acting in close co-operation. An official said Italy would support, at least morally, any reprisals Germany might take in the Leipzig incident.

REPORTS STUDIED

LONDON (CP)—Foreign Secretary Eden urged the House of Commons today to accept reports of German warship movements off Spain "with great reserve."

Mr. Eden said neither the European Non-Intervention Committee nor British patrol ships could confirm reports of Italian troops landing in southern Spain.

In answer to a question from Rt. Hon. Clement Attlee, leader of the Opposition, Mr. Eden said: "I would suggest to the House that reports of German warship movements eastward in the Mediterranean should be received with great reserve. Official information received by the Admiralty does not confirm them."

To a question from Philip Noel Baker, Labor, as to whether he could give any information regarding the alleged debarkation of Italian troops at Malaga and other points, Mr. Eden said:

"The Non-Intervention Committee did not receive any confirmation of the news and British warships patrolling the region did not advise that such an event had taken place."

BRITAIN WATCHES

LONDON (AP)—Great Britain watched anxiously today as Germany increased her naval forces in Spanish waters in the face of a warning Britain would "regard most seriously" any act of reprisal against the Valencia government.

There was an uneasy fear the joint Italo-German withdrawal from the non-intervention patrol to isolate the Spanish war presaged a retaliatory attack against Spain as punishment for alleged efforts to torpedo the German cruiser Leipzig last week.

This fear was believed to have inspired the warning of the British ambassador in Berlin, Sir Neville Henderson, his government would take a serious view of any hostile action against Valencia.

The manoeuvring of German warships around the Spanish Peninsula puzzled London officials, who found it hard to reconcile it with Germany's professed eagerness to prevent further incidents.

Germany and Italy, in withdrawing from the 27-nation hands-off-Spain committee's patrol yesterday did not withdraw their warships from Spain. Germany, in fact, ordered her fleet in the Mediterranean reinforced. Reports from Rome indicated the commanders of the Italian and German fleets were acting in closest co-operation.

Reports from Gibraltar placed the German warship concentration in the vicinity of the straits at 15 vessels. Some are near Tangier, international zone, while others are already in the Mediterranean.

The German and Italian action left the problem of closing the gap in the neutrality cordon left by withdrawal of the German and Italian patrol ships. Roughly, it comprises the territory of the Spanish government on the Mediterranean coast of east Spain.

British sources said there were two alternatives:

1. Complete scrapping of the set-up, raising the danger of Germany and Italy blockading the Valencia coast to prevent receipt of war materials that would hamper the insurgent cause.

2. Taking over the entire job of the patrol either alone or with France.

MONTREAL (CP)—An internationally-known air company executive was added today to the board of the Trans-Canada Air Lines with announcement of Philip G. Johnson's appointment as vice-president in charge of operations.

The deed of gift was made by trustees under the will of the late Edward Disney Farmer, who died 13 years ago, leaving the bulk of his estate to charities in Fort Worth and Parker County, Texas, and in Vancouver. Distribution was made by his executor, George Beggs of Fort Worth, and his sister, Miss Gertrude Farmer, in England.

BALDWIN IS

Premier at Conservative Meeting in London

LONDON—Earl Baldwin took farewell of the Conservative Party of Great Britain today amid a remarkable demonstration of affection from all its members and a stirring tribute by his successor as Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain.

Routine discussions at the Conservative council meeting were promptly shelved at noon when Mr. Chamberlain led Lord and Lady Baldwin to the platform. After some minutes of cheering Mr. Chamberlain was able to begin his speech, presenting Lord Baldwin with a bound volume containing 538 resolutions of appreciation by Conservative Party organizations throughout the United Kingdom.

The volume was offered as a tribute of gratitude "for your leadership of the party during the last 14 years and to record appreciation of your great services as Prime Minister of Great Britain, through times of stress and anxiety of the nation and Empire."

Mr. Chamberlain stressed the degree of sacrifice in Earl Baldwin's career. The former Premier had never put self before the country's interests. He had never feared opposition, even that of his friends if the thought they were not following the right course.

NO DICTATORSHIP
WANTED

Earl Baldwin, obviously moved by the warmth of the reception, was unable to speak for some moments. Then, in a breaking voice, said slowly and deliberately:

"In the course of my political life I have been shouted down and was indifferent. I have sat down in the commons amid dead silence and was indifferent. I have sat down on one or two other occasions when cheers came from the heart as they have come from the heart today. Then indeed I care and am overwhelmed."

"I agree with the Premier's remarks on the unity of the party. We, through our homogeneity, through our public spirit, through our sense of being a national party, must be a great nucleus to maintain the constitution, maintain a charitable sanity of outlook, to fight to the death the extremist movement in this country and prevent the dangers which have come from the triumph of that movement in some countries abroad being repeated in our own beloved land."

ROOSEVELT PROPOSED
AS STEEL ARBITER

A United States Senate committee today Philip Murray, chairman of the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee was "a liar" and that Senator Guffey, Democrat, Pennsylvania, "doesn't know what he is talking about" with respect to the present steel strike.

Appearing before the Senate Post Office Committee to answer charges made against Republic by Murray, Girdler made his assertion in answer to a question asked by Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, as to whether Murray's statement was true that the only issue was the question of reducing an oral agreement to writing.

Girdler told the committee the basic issue of the steel strike "is the right of American citizens to work free from molestation by a labor organization whose apparent policy is either to rule or ruin American industry."

USE ADVERTISEMENTS

Johnstown, Pa., business leaders carried before the nation today in full page newspaper advertisements their fight against the closing of the $50,000,000

Bethlehem Steel mills there by Governor Earle's martial law order.

"We protest," stated advertisements costing $60,000. "We are not arguing for or against unions or steel companies, but in defence of two fundamental American liberties—right of local self-government and right of every worker to pursue occupation peacefully and within the law."

Closing of the vast Cambria works last Sunday morning made idle the non-strikers in a normal force of 15,000 and stopped a normal weekly payroll of $500,000.

Figures for the seven states in which steel strikes are in progress today, the 29th day, showed more than 100,000 idle, including sympathy strikers. The cost of the strikes to date in lost wages only is estimated by Iron Age at about $15,000,000.

The Osservatore Romano, semi-official Vatican newspaper, declared Germany's original demand that the Spanish central government be prohibited from using its submarines was "extremely radical." It appealed to the nations to avoid drastic steps, warning that a new incident may have "unforeseen disastrous consequences."

GERMAN STATEMENTS

BERLIN (AP)—The German press alleged today Russia and Great Britain were largely responsible for the new European crisis growing out of the Spanish civil war.

On the heels of a government declaration the Reich had decided to "take into its own hands" the safeguarding of its interests and vessels "against Bolshevik firebrands in Valencia," the controlled press criticized the London and Moscow governments.

Another German pocket-battleship, the Admiral Graf Spee, sped towards Spain to join the German fighting craft already in Spanish waters. An authoritative informant said the Reich has 18 warships near Spain as well as some "converted fishing vessels" with navy crews.

Der Fuehrer's own newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, led the press in blaming Russia for the Leipzig incident and the new crisis.

"Dangerous complications would develop if the conviction gained strength that the fate of Europe lies exclusively in the hands of those who helped the latest Moscow provocation to become a success," it said.

"There is no European question of greater importance than Moscow's fight against Europe."

The Hamburger Fremdenblatt asserted "if the European horizon is obscured by heavy storm clouds, it is England which must bear the responsibility for conjuring up the storm."

Crew Captured
As Ship Is SunkSpanish Cruiser Sends Loyalist Freighter Down in Mediterranean

PORT VENDRES, France (AP)—The Spanish government freighter Trinidad was sunk in the high seas off this port today by the insurgent cruiser Baleares.

The freighter's crew attempted to flee in a lifeboat, but the Baleares put over a small boat, captured them at pistol point and took them aboard the warship.

The Baleares' eight-inch guns sent the Trinidad to the bottom in a few minutes.

The merchantman was stopped almost seven miles off the coast. She was commanded by Captain Ignacio Carasco. She was headed for Port Vendres from Sete, France.

Rowe Metcalfe suffered fractures of one arm and one leg when caught by the wind and thrown 21 feet. A motor truck was overturned by the wind near Dauphin, Man., but none of its occupants was injured.

Outbuildings were demolished and trees uprooted in many other parts of Southern Manitoba, but while crops were flattened in some areas, crop damage estimates today were non extensive.

The wind reached a velocity of more than 50 miles an hour in southeastern Alberta, where extensive damage was caused to sun-parched crops, particularly in the Medicine Hat area.

Lethbridge and the southwestern Alberta districts, where crop prospects are reported the best in years, suffered from wind and summer fallow was drifting, but no serious crop loss was reported today. Good rains aided crops north of Calgary as far as Edmonton.

STRICTER LAW FOR VAGRANTS

Canadian Police Association Is Told Criminal Code Needs Changes

MONTREAL—Criticism was leveled at the section of the Criminal Code concerning vagrants at the annual convention of the Canadian Chief Constables' Association of Canada here Wednesday after delegates heard a paper on the subject by Police Chief A. G. Shute of Edmonton.

Chief Shute revealed Edmonton police were having difficulty curbing loitering and vagrancy.
 Experience had proved to police there, he said, a great majority of persons seen wandering daily about the streets with nothing to do were criminals.

He said a careful study had been made of the great number of men who found their way into Edmonton and that few were found actually "down and out."
 Generally, he said, they were men who made their living safe-cracking, stealing and by hold-ups. When police began to close in on their rackets they merely escaped from the city before arrests could be made.

Chief Shute declared the Canadian law was not stringent enough in dealing with these so-called vagrants. He said the law should provide power for police to arrest any "suspicious character seen loitering about a city without any visible means of support."

 Brig.-Gen. D. C. Draper, police chief of Toronto, supported the stand of the Edmonton chief.
 The matter was referred to a special committee for study.

Group of Soviet Officials Ousted

MOSCOW—Heads of the Uzbek Republic government and numerous other officials were disclosed Wednesday to have been removed from office in a new discovery of alleged anti-central government opposition in middle Asia.

Premier Faizoulla Khodjaieff, chief of one of the constituent republics of the Soviet Union; Vice-Premier Alexander Mentsovvitch, and the chairman of the city soviet of Bokhara, named Kurbanoff, were ousted.
 Trusun Khodjaieff, Trade Com-missar, was removed from office and dismissed from the Communist party.

The Uzbek Republic, in Asia, lies between Turkistan and Afghanistan, and includes the cities of Bokhara and Samarkand.

 ago, by a Frenchman.

Irish Campaign In Home Stretch

Candidates Officially Nominated Yesterday for Election July 1

DUBLIN—More than 250 candidates, 100 of them standard-bearers of Eamon de Valera's Fianna Fail, were formally in the field today for the Irish Free State general election July 1.

While the government party named the largest number of candidates in the official nomination Wednesday, the Fine Gael oppositionists, led by former President William T. Cosgrave, were close behind with 97. William Norton's Labor ranks named 23, with Independents and Independent Labor nominees bringing up the rear as regards numbers.

The campaign leading up to the election of 137 deputies for the ninth Dail, as compared with 152 in the House recently dissolved, already is in full and vigorous swing. The speaker, holding the 138th seat in the Dail, is returned automatically.

Reduction in the membership of the Dail has been effected under provisions of the old constitution which lays down the proportion of deputies to the population and prescribes revision of the constituencies every 10 years.

Constituencies which existed since establishment of the Free State have been greatly shaken up in the process. The old practice was to group two small adjoining counties together for election purposes and to leave the large counties as single units.
 Kerry, Donegal and Galway are among the areas which have been split into two parts.

PLAIN SPEAKING

Speakers have begun to warm up. Down in his native Longford, General Sean MacEon, the former "Blacksmith of Ballinalee" who became almost a legendary figure during the Irish troubles, has boldly declared Valera is "one of the greatest duds ever put over on any country."

Desmond Fitzgerald, once Valera's director of publicity and later Cosgrave's minister for defence, has gone further. He told his constituents in Kilkenny that "De Valera is a scoundrel."

BEER PARLOR TAX

ROSSLAND, B.C.—The Union of Kootenay Municipalities, meeting here Wednesday, passed a resolution urging municipalities be granted the privilege of placing a license tax on beer parlors.
 It was stated municipalities had to police these premises and received no revenue for such work.
 This change, they declared, should not affect the sharing of the municipalities in liquor profits of the province.

New Industries in Japan for Defence

TOKIO—The War Ministry submitted a five-year plan to the cabinet Wednesday for expenditure of 9,000,000,000 yen (about $2,520,000,000) to triple Japan's industrial capacity by 1943 as a defence measure.

SECOND LAMB SHOW IS HELD

Dr. Tolmie Opens Event at Agricultural Grounds in Saanichton

SAANICHTON—Rain seems to be doing its best to prevent the establishment of an annual Lamb Show and Sale here. Yesterday, for the second time the North and South Saanich Sheep Breeders' Association put on an interesting event, and for the second time it poured.

Despite the weather, however, about 100 people, quite a few of whom had come from as far as Duncan, were on hand at the Agricultural Grounds, when Hon. S.
 F. Tolmie, M.P., opened the show.

Dr. Tolmie pointed out that shows of this kind were a benefit to the community as they tended to raise the quality of lambs.
 There was a good market in Victoria for lambs but they had to be of good quality.

Dr. Tolmie dealt with the need for careful selection in breeding.
 He pointed out the advantage of a "creep" where there were troughs of oats which the lambs could only get at, the slats being too close together for the ewes.

The city market demanded a lamb of dressed weight between 32 and 40 pounds, Dr. Tolmie said. He touched briefly on the value of properly finishing off an animal.

George Clark, Sidney, president of the sheep breeders, introduced Dr. Tolmie.
 From the spectators' standpoint, the most interesting event was the sheep dog trials. Alec Turner won from the veteran William Robson, Duncan, whose young dog performed remarkably well.

Kerry Hills made a clean sweep of the purebred classes, C. Eccleston, Royal Oak, taking first honors among rams, and Mrs. E.
 J. T. Woodward, Cobble Hill, topping the ewe list.

In the best pen of three of the various breeds, the following won: W. Derrinberg, Suffolk; E.
 M. Maber, Kerry Hills, and R.
 Mercer, Oxford.

Mr. Maber whose sheep ranch is only a couple of miles from the agricultural grounds had a remarkable record, winning in every event he entered. Beside his breed victory, he had the best market lamb, the best pen of three market lambs, and the best pen of ten market lambs with Suffolks.

The pen of 15 market lambs was won by George Clark with James Turner second.

In the wool classes R. Mercer was first in long fleece and George Clark in medium fleece.

The Turner family swept the board as far as the pet-lamb competition was concerned, Nellie Turner being first, Willie Turner second, and Jimmy Turner third.
 In the other children's classes,
 Bryce Rashley was the quickest at catching lambs, with Russel Munro not far behind.

Oliver Turner won the judging contest with Bessie Locke second and Jimmy Turner third.

Canadian Heads All Kiwanis

INDIANAPOLIS—F. Trafford Taylor of St. Boniface, Man., was elected unanimously to the presidency of Kiwanis International national convention here Wednesday. He is the first Canadian to hold the office in 15 years.

Presentation to Past President

H. E. Tanner, Keating, Honored By Agricultural Society

With memories and reminis-cences of over 40 years' association with the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, during which period he had seen the various changes and noted the growth of the organization, H. E. Tanner, who after 16 years has relinquished the post of president, was paid a surprise visit Monday at his home at Keating. A representative group from the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society presented him, on behalf of the directors and members, with a handsome easy chair.

George T. Mitchell, president, in making the presentation, referred to Mr. Tanner's long association with the society, and stressed his never-failing courtesy and tact, which, he said, had undoubtedly helped in no small measure to build up the different sections and interests of the society.

After the presentation, experiences and anecdotes in connection with pioneer and early days of the society were recalled.
 Supper was served by Mrs. Tanner. The representatives were as follows: President and Mrs.
 George T. Mitchell, J. M. Malcolm, Mr. and Mrs. W. D.
 Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. R. E.
 Nimmo and Mrs. Stuart G. Stoddart.

Mexico Takes Over Railways

National Lines Expropriated; Foreign Bondholders Will Be Reimbursed

MEXICO CITY—The government will expropriate the National Railways of Mexico.

The railways, said a decree signed by President Lazaro Cardenas and published today in the official gazette, will be administered by a new federal department to be appointed. It will be empowered to take necessary measures to reorganize the railways and put the system on a profitable basis.

The government will reimburse foreign bondholders after a valuation of the expropriated properties.

The inventory of the properties will be under supervision of the treasury department, which will determine the amount to be paid to foreign investors.

The railways already have been under operation by the government, which now holds more than half the capital stock.

The project is another in Mexico's nationalization programme, begun first with expropriation of agricultural land to be allotted to peasants. The oil industry also has been subjected to a measure of nationalization.

The National Railways comprise, with leased trackage and subsidiaries, a total of 7,114 miles.

The company was incorporated under a 99-year lease on July 6, 1907, with the government owning 51.36 per cent of the stock.

The company listed assets in 1934 of 1,045,442,916 pesos, about $282,269,587, including road valuation at $50,475,681 pesos (about $229,600,000).

Man 115 Dies in British Guiana

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana—Ramlogan Rai, believed the oldest resident of British Guiana, died here Wednesday. He was said to be 115.

Rai came to British Guiana from India as a young boy when he was indentured to a sugar estate here. According to the story he was fond of telling, he was ill-treated on the estate and swore he would buy a plantation of his own some day. His dream was realized 60 years later.
 Up until a few months ago, Rai supervised all work on his rice and coconut farm. A year ago two undersized teeth appeared in his otherwise toothless gums.

Boy Cleared By Coroner's Jury

PORT ANGELES, Wash.—A coroner's jury rendered a verdict of "justifiable homicide"
 Wednesday on the death of Geo.
 F. Kearns, who was shot to death at his home last Monday night by his 12-year-old son, Geo.
 K. Kearns Jr.

The son said after the shooting he was trying to protect his mother from all treatment.

"We find the boy was entirely innocent of any crime and was completely justified under the circumstances to protect his mother, who was in great danger of bodily injury," the jury, headed by foreman John Sherman, said in its verdict. "We recommend that no further action be taken."

 tions covering 360 years, but modern science has so far accumulated no series longer than yesterday from burns suffered when gasoline with which she was exploded and flames enveloped her.

Mrs. Stutzaker had resided over a quarter of a century here, coming to Nelson when she left her ago.

How To Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.
 For this purpose get from MacFarlane or Vancouver Drug Co. Storer, or any drugist, a package of Hemoroid and use as directed.
 This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and sore-ness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemoroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.

ULTRA-CONSERVATIVE BRITAIN and Communist Russia are being blamed by Germany and Italy for what is described in a dispatch from Berlin today as the new European crisis growing out of the Spanish civil war. We ask, what next? Chamberlain and Stalin falling on one another's necks? Is this a Nazi-Fascist attempt at 1937 humor?

Reichsfuehrer Hitler's own newspaper, Der Voelkischer Beobachter, puts the responsibility for the alleged torpedo attack on the Leipzig on Russia, and goes on to say that "Italy and Germany, in good faith, have tried heretofore to participate in European solidarity, but the latest developments show that that solidarity exists only between Italy and Germany."

Der Beobachter's commentator gives us this: "Dangerous complications would develop if the conviction gained strength that the fate of Europe lies exclusively in the hands of those who helped the latest Moscow provocation to become a success," and that "there is no European question of greater importance than Moscow's fight against Europe."

These statements from Hitler's journalistic mouthpiece are worthy of study. Twenty-seven countries subscribed to the non-intervention pact, the object of which, of course, was to employ every available means to confine Spain's sorry mess to the territorial limits of that unhappy nation. Two of the signatories of that undertaking have sought to try to impose upon the rest their idea of the manner in which the spirit and intent of it should be carried out.

This in itself is a dangerous business and a course of procedure which smacks of deliberate intent to interfere with the "European solidarity" of which Der Voelkischer Beobachter speaks. And it has not yet been proven that the Loyalist government of Spain was responsible for a torpedo attack on Germany's warship Leipzig—if, indeed, there was an attack at all.

Surely the spirit and intent of the non-intervention agreement could have been invoked to call the committee together to find out whether such an attack actually did take place. So far there is only Germany's word for the charge. But when Hitler's newspaper mouthpiece implies that Moscow and London are, figuratively speaking, as thick as thieves in some unexplained conniving at the downfall of the two dictator-governed nations of Germany and Italy, there emerges a touch of humor.

France, incidentally, wants to know what will develop if there is to be an Italo-German attempt to patrol the Spanish coast without the authorization of the international non-intervention committee. French officials see in such a plan what would amount to a blockade and, therefore, an act of war against Spain. On this point the question arises: Could Great Britain and France remain indifferent in such an eventuality? The delicacy of a situation of this kind needs no emphasis.

Advices from Rome today tell us that Italy would support, at least morally, any reprisals Germany might take about the Leipzig incident, and that Italian warships patrolling the coasts of Spain are under orders to strike back immediately and forcibly at any attack from the Valencia government. This would appear to mean that there is a Nazi-Fascist agreement to act in accord, if Germany and Italy think it wise and expedient—and to find the least possible excuse for it.

London does not seem to be unduly excited about the trend of events of the last forty-eight hours. The British government, however, naturally makes no apology for its reluctance to take part in a demonstration in Spanish waters as a "warning" to the Loyalist administration, admonishing it for what is, after all, only an alleged attack on Germany's warship Leipzig. It would be interesting to know just what Hitler and Mussolini have in the back of their minds, just what they expect to get out of their attitude toward a large section of public opinion in a foreign country which does not coincide with their pet tenets of governmental formula. They had better make up their minds, however, that their policy of dictatorship will not influence Great Britain, or any of the countries which make up the British Commonwealth of Nations—the policy of that loosely-welded family which naturally refuses to be dominated by the nostrums of any upstart.

Magic As Social Problem

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE IN JUNGLES, islands, and places not so remote believe in magic. What is it doing for them—and to them?

The answer is shown in Sir James Frazer's newest work. Sir James gained scientific fame with "The Golden Bough," in which he gathered impressive data on beliefs and customs of mankind. In "Aftermath," he offers more evidence. And the moral seems to be this:

Magic does nothing for man. But magic does terrible things to man.

Faith in magic is based on two fallacies, as Sir James analyzes it. One is that by imitating a desired effect, we can produce it. This is imitative magic. It is imitative magic to fashion a wax image, and destroy it, believing the person represented will be destroyed. The other fallacy is that things that have once been in contact can still influence each other when they are separated. This is contagious magic. Example: In treating a knife wound, the knife must be cleaned and treated to aid in healing the wound.

Amplifying these two principles, primitive tribes try to rid themselves of disease, bring rainfall, make fish bite, win wives and wars. They find themselves fighting magic with magic, in desperate battles of power. It would be as harmless as shadow boxing, except for what magic does to the mind.

Many a natural death, in a "magic-ridden" community, is laid to wizardry, and avenged by murder of some innocent victim. More far-reaching is the effect on economics. South African Kaffirs fear to raise too bountiful crops lest they be accused of magic in their farming. A missionary tells of a native medicine woman who was so successful at treating certain diseases, that she was driven to stop. Natives argued that if she could cure so easily, she must first give the ailment to the patient. Under the spell of magic, communities fear what is strange. New articles of trade and new inventions get cold welcome.

Magic fights progress. It is a very real social problem for a considerable part of the world—as real as the sit-down strike or health insurance.

Work and Wages for Wives

WHEN MRS. ROOSEVELT suggested that the married woman should receive a definite wage for her work as a household administrator and should have an eight-hour day, she may have been on sound academic premises. But the difficulties in the way of the minimum wage and maximum hours idea for the housewife, are obvious. When the baby began to cry after the working day is over, something would probably have to be done about it, if the household was not to face the spectre of dissolution. Sickening among the children might call for almost unlimited overtime. The husband might not make enough to pay the helpmate's salary.

Yet the President's wife has called attention to a problem that has been discussed by many novelists, and is wrestled with by the students attending the seminars on marriage now conducted by the departments of sociology in some leading universities. Woman's new "independence" has not been extended in any notable, or far-reaching sense, in the sphere of marriage. Where the income of the husband is limited, she receives far less than her fair share of what is earned. Of course, when the income of the husband is abundant to meet all needs, and "skimping" and saving is not imperative, the wife may arrange to get her fair share of the budget. But where the reverse is true, it is too often the wife who must make all the sacrifices.

Mrs. Roosevelt probably does not think this is a matter that can be dealt with by legislation at the present time. But she has chosen a pointed method of illustrating the fact that the housewife's progress toward economic self-sufficiency has not kept pace with that of the working woman in business and industry. It is a subject upon which there might be more education.

Before they are married, is the time to teach husbands. The outlook for getting them to attend courses on marriage relations after they are married, is probably not very hopeful. But even if we can do no more than thoroughly "post" all the wives, there will be a better balance in household bookkeeping.

Sweet-Bitter

FRANCE AND GERMANY HAVE initiated a plan for student exchange to promote better feeling. But both sides of the Rhine continue to be dotted with troop movements and it is no wild guess that new "time tables" of war are in the making by which those same students might be called to face each other in another death struggle before long.

The war spirit never has played favorites in mixing the sweet and the bitter.

Notes

Defeat of all the Social Credit candidates in the recent B.C. elections is accepted by The Toronto Telegram as proof that the public here is reading the news from Alberta.

The Chilean correspondent of The Chicago Tribune reports that "a serious shortage of labor exists in some South American countries."

He writes that practically all Latin-American presidents, in their annual messages to their respective Congresses, admitted that there had been no unemployment problem since the depression but that, on the contrary, there was a shortage of workers which, in many cases, was causing a serious lag in production. In Argentina, government officials assert that their country could immediately absorb another 500,000 workers. Brazil requires immigrants for labor as well as for settlement. The west coast republics—Chile, Peru, Bolivia, Ecuador and Colombia—want selected families including craftsmen of various kinds, for population expansion.

Not to be outdone by those who make their living through the preparation of stock market charts and prognostication, Charles G. Dawes, the Chicago banker, and ex-Vice-President of the United States, has written and is distributing a thick pamphlet in which all the familiar devices for detecting price movements are used. Dawes puts some of the professional market analysts to shame by his decided convictions, and even he makes a hedge of two possibilities. He says: "I predict, barring wars or inflation of the currency" (1) prosperity into 1939; (2) in the summer or fall of 1939 a stock market collapse; (3) a minor recession in business of one or two years thereafter; (4) prosperity to follow the recession. Some possibly may accuse Dawes of wishful thinking, as a political change would be likely in a hard-time election year, 1940, but the prospect as he sees it is a friendly one for stockholders.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OLD CLOCK

AT ONE O'CLOCK every afternoon the clock of Munich does strange things. In the richly-carved clock tower, which rises tier on tier like a wedding cake, a robed figure, cunningly fashioned of iron and stone, lifts its arm and strikes a gong with a hammer. Then a procession of heralds and knights on horseback ride around a king and queen on a raised dais and finally a band of little men dances merrily in a circle.

It must be the most wonderful toy in the world, the Munich clock. Every day crowds stop on the street to watch it, as children will always watch a new toy. This is a real German toy, built with German ingenuity and brightly colored like the German toys of our childhood. But it is more than a masterpiece of clockwork. It is a kind of symbol of the old, simple days of Germany all gone now, and the crowds of townfolk watching it with childlike, fascinated eyes, are, for a moment, the Germans of the old days before Hitler, before the war, before Bismarck.

Munich used to be known for its great clock, its palaces, solid and serviceable and well made, like the German character, for its art galleries and museums. Now Munich is much more important as the spiritual home of National Socialism, the birthplace of Hitlerism.

BROWN HOUSE

HITLERISM WAS BORN not far from the clock, in the Brown House. The Brown House is a sheer, square building, plastered in the color of curry. There is nothing to mark it as the headquarters of the Nazi movement, the place where the party struggled into being, except the two sentries in steel helmets and black uniforms, motionless at the gates, and the single swastika flag.

The doors are closed. There is no sign of life within. But always a little procession of Germans passes by, arms upraised in the Nazi salute, and next to the Brown House they have made a huge square to mark the Revolution, with twin Greek temples covering the sunken bronze coffins of the Nazi Martyrs.

From the simple, unpretentious Brown House something has gone forth to transform Germany, to alter the course of world history. You can feel this thing, without understanding it, as soon as you have walked the streets of old Munich for half an hour. Everybody is friendly. Everybody is well-dressed and apparently happy. No city could be cleaner, better kept, more nobly built, more prosperous to look at. But the spirit of the Brown House is heavy over it, as tangible as fog.

MARCHING

EVERYWHERE MEN are marching, men and little boys. Everywhere men and women greet one another with the raised right hand. Everywhere are uniforms of every sort and color until you think that every third man is wearing one—generals in gray, with smart peaked caps, infantrymen in black, boys out of the labor battalions in brown, and the brown shirts of Storm Troopers, and little boys with swastikas on their arms—marching, always marching.

It is not so much the soldiers who spread the spirit of the Brown House over the ancient town of Munich, or even the little boys of nine and ten marching in long columns singing Nazi songs. It is rather the townspeople themselves. They march, too. They stride through their old museums in long files. They visit their monuments in organized parties, like squads of soldiers. They file past the coffins of the Nazi Martyrs, men, women and children, with upraised right hands, shoulders squared as if they were on parade.

And always it is the vast War Museum, with its relics of German arms from the Middle Ages to the Great War which draws the largest crowd to gaze on guns and battered tanks, to salute the sunken grave of the Unknown Soldier.

NEW YORK.

THAW TRIAL GIRL

EVELYN NESSBIT, the girl in the Stanford White-Harry K. Thaw case, has lingered on the fringes of Broadway for many years, eking out a night club engagement here and there in obscure caravansaries. But she has edged her way back into the Rialto hurly-burly by securing a songstress' role at a Swedish restaurant in the Fifties.

BARKING DOGS AND THE MOON

To the Editor:—Please allow me to explain why dogs bark on moonlight nights. It is true that a dog looks as if he were barking at the moon, but that is only because he usually points his nose up in the air when he barks on these bright, moonlight nights.

This seems hard for us to understand until we study the ways of wolves, which are very near relatives of dogs. In wild wolves of today we are quite sure to find an explanation of many of our dogs' habits. Then, if we can, try to imagine that these are not dogs but wolves that are barking and howling, and that, instead of a civilized neighborhood like Oak Bay, we are in the midst of a vast forest.

There is one large wolf right near you. He lifts his nose high in the air and howls. Soon another wolf answers, and another, and many more. After several minutes these wolves join the first wolf. Now we have a pack. They say one to the other: "I am hungry, the moon is up, and it is a fine night for a deer hunt."

So off they start along the mountain side, and through the forest, howling as loud as they can.

This may seem to our dear friends as if it had nothing to do with our civilized dog barking in our backyard, but it has. It is like this: When the dog came out of the house in the evening and saw the moon shining, something reminded him of the far-off days when his ancestors were wolves.

I am afraid our neighbor at Oak Bay will have to put up with this dog howling. Sooke, B.C. EMANUEL THROUP.

Advice!

BUY COAL NOW!

KIRK COAL CO. LTD.
1239 BROAD ST. G 3241Cora Hind Views
Canada From Outside

Cora Hind, former agricultural editor, returning from a two-years' world tour, in the Winnipeg Free Press.

FIRST I would like to state, and state it very definitely, that in the 25 countries visited I have neither seen nor heard anything that has altered my views on Canada as a land of immense opportunity for the development of a strong nation within a great Empire. A nation strong and free, with high ideals and a high standard of living. By that I do not mean a luxurious standard, but a standard of comfort and well being, with a keen sense of obligation to maintain, as far as possible, peace in the world.

With this view as firmly rooted as ever, I can yet see where Canada has made mistakes (as for that matter, which country has not?). But it is regrettable that Canada has made mistakes, which if she had been wise in reading the history of other countries, she should have avoided.

PERHAPS not unnaturally, seeing that it has figured so largely in my life-work for more than 50 years, my thoughts turn first to the West's "great cash crop"—wheat. What have I learned about it? We have been wont to think the world must have Western Canadian wheat—"the best in the world."

Perfectly true as to the quality, but alas no longer true, if it ever was, that the world must have it. Let every grower of wheat in Western Canada, every handler, every seller of wheat, once and for all rid themselves of the idea that the world cannot do without Western Canadian wheat. It can—worse luck—it can. It has been doing it in a great measure for the past few years, as Canada knows to her sorrow. Within the last twelve months or more the world has again been buying Canadian wheat in fair quantities, but let no one think that the days of $2 wheat will return.

Why? Because in every one of the 25 countries visited, with two exceptions, they are determined to grow their own wheat, they are improving their varieties and increasing their yields. This is especially true of European countries. Whether it be uneconomical or no, until the last war cloud has disappeared and a more or less permanently peaceful world assured, they will continue of grow wheat. In the South American countries, the wonder created by their great unoccupied areas of good land is why they have not done it before.

I AM NOT SUGGESTING that Western Canada should reduce her wheat acreage. I am leaving that for the farmers to decide for themselves. I am fully aware of how impossible, in many areas, "mixed farming," that panacea of the uninformed, would be. However, I have no hesitation in saying that for a time at least (personally I fear it may be a very long time) it would be unwise for the Western Canadian plains to increase their wheat areas.

Furthermore, it is not only a question of growing less or more wheat. It is a question of building up strong marketing organization for selling her wheat. I am making no suggestion as to what form that organization should take, but there should be some organization with experts in every country which may appear to be a probable market for our wheat, and indeed, where possible, in every country where wheat is grown in any quantity.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

DOG CHORUS

To the Editor:—May I echo the sentiments expressed in a letter in The Times regarding the constant barking of dogs? I have been a visitor to this lovely city for some weeks, and it does seem to me that the dogs "cease not day nor night" their barking, yapping and mournful howling. They do pause for perhaps half a minute at a time, but that is just in order to catch their breath and go on. In the city where I reside in eastern Canada this would be regarded as a nuisance and there would be a stop put to it by the authorities.

Dogs should not be allowed to torment human beings that they cannot sleep for nights at a time, and regard the train as "a nice, quiet place to sleep," in comparison. Like your other correspondent, I like dogs, but, like the old adage about children, they should at least be not heard. It will certainly not be a drawing card for tourists to listen to such a "hallelujah chorus" night in and night out, and all day long as well.

"MARITIMER."

From St. John, N.B.

OUR LIGHTHOUSE ASHORE

To the Editor:—I would draw your attention to the fact that, though for more than a week the little memorial tower on Pandora Street has been finished and lighted at night, still the pile of unsightly rubbish has been left on the grass plot behind the tower and most certainly detracts from its appearance and, if left long enough, will ruin the grass.

However, it's your crass, not mine, but it looks untidy on such a very attractive boulevard.

Is this also, like some of the southern countries, a "land of tomorrow"? There are so many things to admire and enjoy—and that which I have quoted "stands out like a sore finger."

"MARITIMER"

From St. John, N.B.

ROSE SHOW THANKS

To the Editor:—The unseasonable weather has made it necessary to cancel the rose show arranged for this Saturday, and I would appreciate the privilege of offering my sincere thanks to all those merchants in Greater Victoria who have granted me the opportunity of advertising the rose show on the windows of their stores. My thanks also to the owners of cars for their help.

It is by these friendly gestures that the real community spirit of Victoria is made manifest, and it encourages those horticultural bodies who are always working hard to make Victoria the city of flowers.

H. O. SIMPSON.

1622 Camosun Street.

REPORTED DIPHTHERIA SERUM DEATHS

To the Editor:—According to The Daily Mirror, May 24, 1937, 24 children in Waterford, Ireland, inoculated for diphtheria, have contracted tuberculosis from the serum. One has died, the others are seriously ill, in various stages of the disease. Their ages are from 12 to 14 and all lived in one district. They were inoculated six months ago with serum prepared in an Irish laboratory. They became ill immediately after the injections but tuberculosis was not diagnosed until some time after. Many patients are now considered incurable.

This is one of the many instances of disease emanating from the use of sera and vaccines. How many cases of tuberculosis, and other complaints may be the result of general inoculation, it would be difficult to compute.

DORA KITTO,

Honorary Secretary, Canadian Anti-Vivisection Society, 315 Sayward Bldg. Victoria.

Lampson Street School Display

Esquimalt Parents and Friends See Work of Students at "Open Day"

Three hundred parents and friends of Esquimalt students gathered yesterday afternoon for the annual "open day" of Lampson Street School, to enjoy an entertainment programme staged by the pupils and also to see samples of the work of the school and to witness regular classroom activities.

Considerable originality was to be seen in the exhibits of work, which covered a wide range of subjects and materials, including plasticine modeling, drawing, painting, woodwork and model building.

In the assembly hall of the school the students, directed by Hugh Creelman, principal, presented a programme of songs, short plays and dances, including folk dance and song selections taken from the new curriculum.

The playlets, which were directed as well as acted by the pupils, provided one of the most interesting portions of the entertainment. In all cases the stories were connected with the history of the development of British Columbia and its natural resources.

An innovation in the programme was the presentation of choral reading by pupils of grade eight.

Later in the afternoon the parents and other visitors went to the various classrooms of the school to see the students at their work.

At the end of the successful "open house" refreshments were served to the visitors by students of the school.

PARENTS VIEW PUPILS' WORK

Domestic Science and Manual Training Exhibition By Oak Bay Students

Manual training and domestic science work of pupils of Oak Bay schools was exhibited yesterday at a display held in the old High School building and attended by parents of the children, members of the school board and school officials.

Dresses made by girls as part of their domestic science work were exhibited by the girls in a short fashion parade. At the conclusion of this exhibition, Captain F. G. Dexter, supervisor, introduced Miss M. E. Blankenbach, domestic science teacher, who will leave at the end of this term to be married.

Captain Dexter expressed the schools' appreciation of Miss Blankenbach's work and as a tribute to her efforts the girls presented her with two suitably engraved napkin rings and a bouquet.

Following the display the parents were tea guests of the pupils.

The affair was attended by Trustees S. J. Drake, R. W. Murdoch and Hew Paterson and D. H. Hartness, high school principal.

W.B.A. Group Leave For Seattle

Forty Members
Off to Three-day
"Loyalty Rally"

Forty members of the Women's Benefit Association left yesterday afternoon and today for Seattle to attend the Washington State rally and Pacific Coast loyalty pageant of the W.B.A. which is being held there today and tomorrow.

Among those who went yesterday were Mrs. Jean Bowden, vice-president of Victoria Review No. 1, who is heading the delegation in the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Minnie Ritchie, the president; Mrs. Annie Barracough, captain of the guard team who made a colorful showing in their red and white uniforms and Grogan caps, and Miss Mae Muir, who was soloist, and Mrs. Katherine Hole, her accompanist, at the impressive ceremony of the dedication of the altar held in the Sound city this morning, exemplified by Victoria Review and by Reviews 2, 7 and 9 from Vancouver.

Today a luncheon for presidents and display captains will be followed by a sightseeing tour, and a dinner for past presidents' associations this evening will precede a ritualistic meeting.

After Friday morning's session and luncheon for guests and members, the evening session will include a colorful pageant by massed guards and color bearers from reviews representing British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and California which will take place in the Masonic auditorium. Pioneers will be presented.

The Saturday session will be a members' forum and question box, followed by girls' club luncheon and girls' club convention in the afternoon.

The convention will conclude with a "winners" loyalty banquet, at which the guests of honor will include Mesdames Mabel Burnett, Annie Barracough, Bertha McAllister, Mary Laird, Jean Bowden and Alice Ritchie.

Condemns Too Tight Footwear

OTTAWA (CP) — A famous British orthopedic surgeon came to the defence of women who wear high-heeled shoes but condemned footwear that is too tight. Women who wear tight shoes, R. Watson Jones of Liverpool said, were "on a par" with Chinese women who used to bind their feet to make them small. However, he said, high heels were not injurious, "provided they are not too high." The trouble high heels were supposed to cause was considerably exaggerated, he declared.

He expressed the opinion women were "getting more sense" in their choice of shoes, declaring he had noticed in England that their footwear was becoming larger.

Miss Louise Farris, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Farris of Great Central and Qualicum, V.I. who will be presented at Their Majesties' Court on July 1. Miss Farris left at the beginning of March for London, where she acted as bridesmaid, and since has been traveling on the British Isles and the Continent, returning to London for the Coronation ceremonies, where she was one of the guests of the Agent-General for British Columbia at the official reception at which he was host. Miss Farris will be presented by Mrs. Vincent Massey, wife of the Canadian High Commissioner.

Society

Miss Sybil Fraser, Joan Crescent, is visiting at Ben Bow Lodge, Qualicum, for a short time.

Mrs. J. O. Cameron, who has been spending the last few weeks in southern California, returned home this afternoon.

The Misses Muriel and Aileen Aylard, Elliott Street, will leave next week for Banff to spend a few weeks there.

Mrs. Cyril Penzer of Wellington Avenue left today for Los Angeles, where she will visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sheehy.

Mrs. K. W. Rome and her sister, Mrs. Blacklock, October Mansions, have left for Portland, Oregon, on a visit to Mrs. Rome's daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. Rome.

Miss Vivien Combe left this afternoon for Seattle en route to Southern California, where she will spend the next two months. She will visit for several weeks in Hollywood.

Major and Mrs. S. MacDonald and Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Tripp are among the Victorians who have been guests recently at Banff Springs Hotel and Chateau Lake Louise.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Moody, Brentwood, left on Tuesday for Seattle, from where Mr. Moody left by plane this morning for New York. Mrs. Moody will spend a few days in the Sound city visiting her aunt, Mrs. James Wood.

Complimenting Miss Mary Costen, whose marriage to Mr. Kenneth Leeming of Victoria will take place on July 3, Miss Edith Crowston and Mrs. William Swift entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the latter's home, Barclay Street, Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Freeman of 2079 West First Avenue, Vancouver, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Miss Phoebe Marjorie Freemantle, R.N., to Mr. William Cars Pollard of Toppensish, Wash., U.S.A., formerly of Victoria. The bride-elect is a graduate of the 1934 class of St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, and also holds a diploma for post-graduate work in pediatrics at the Vancouver General Hospital. She is a member of Victoria Review, W.B.A. The wedding will take place quietly in July at St. Augustine's Church Rectory, Eighth Avenue and Maple Street, Vancouver.

Dr. and Mrs. W. Meular, who attended the chemists' convention held recently in Vancouver, visited Victoria at the weekend and were the guests of Mrs. E. Brock and Mrs. D. Pyke, Cavendish Avenue, before proceeding to their home at Shawinigan, Quebec.

Mrs. John E. Semmes has arrived from Baltimore, Md., to spend the summer months at her home, "Robinswood," Uplands, and will be joined by her husband about August 1. Their son, Mr. Jack Semmes, is also here, but will leave on July 1 for San Diego to join the Marine Corps Reserve.

Two bridegrooms-elect, Mr. Tom Woolson and Mr. Robin Raymond, were guests of honor at a "stag" dinner at the Union Club last night. Among those present were Hon. John Hart, Mr. Alex Gillespie, Lieut.-Col. Brooke Stephenson, Lieut.-Col. J. R. Kingham, Col. Don McGowan, Major Stuart Robertson, and Messrs. Cyril Wightman, John Rockingham, Guy Barclay, Bill Oliver, Aubrey Walls, Eric Fraser, Maurice Humber, Douglas Gordon, Jim and William Munro, Bob Love, Bill Lambert, Arthur Buckle, Don Campbell, Elbeck Wilson, Pat Parr, Bobbie Tye, Whitfield Stansbury, Bob Travers, Ralph Mathews, Eric Henderson, Jack Kingsberry, Don Brake, Thomas and Jack Mome, Wilfred Hartley, James Thow, Henry Law, Eric Stewart, Jack Speck, Waldo Skilling, Edward Paquet, William Heaney, Cecil Mosedale, Ronald Wilkins, Fred Pease and F. Henson.

In honor of Miss Phyllis Williams, whose marriage to Mr. Wm. Hill will take place in July, Miss Barbara Dawson held a miscellaneous shower at her home yesterday afternoon. The many useful gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a gaily decorated clothes basket, the color scheme being pale green and yellow. Bowls of orange blossoms and honeysuckle were placed in the reception rooms. The invited guests were: Mesdames H. Youson, J. C. Williams, H. Dawson, and Misses M. Irvine, Edna Raper, Esther Griffiths, Lillian Williams, Muriel Raper, Marjorie Griffiths, Ivy Salter, Phyllis Burwash, Evelyn Davies, Ruth Burwash, Eleanor Gray, Flora Hill, Louise Michaux, Lorraine Willerton, Marjorie Laidlaw, Lillian Le Cog and Helen McKee.

Weddings

McLEAN—ROWAN

The marriage was quietly solemnized in the vestry of the Metropolitan Church last evening of Helen May, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Rowan, and Leslie, only son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McLean of Trail, B.C. They were attended by Mr. Gordon Rowan and Miss W. Currie. Mr. T. MacMillan, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage.

A reception, attended by relatives and intimate friends, was held later at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple will reside in Trail.

POPHAM—JEPSEN

At the Grace English Lutheran Church on Saturday evening Rev. Edwin Bracher officiated at the wedding of Pearl, only daughter of the late Mr. O. N. Jepsen and Mrs. Jepsen, Victoria, and Mr. Frederick Popham, Duncan. Given in marriage by her mother, the bride wore a becoming frock of maize crepe, wide sports coat and smart turban hat with a short white veil. Her shoes matched her frock and she wore a corsage bouquet of roses and carnations. Mr. Herbert Jepsen, brother of the bride, was best man.

A reception attended by intimate friends was held at the home of the bride's mother, 2527 Asquith Street. Mrs. Jepsen wore a lavender gown and hat to match and a corsage spray of carnations and mauve sweet peas. The refreshment table was prettily decorated with roses and centred by the wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Popham will make their home in Duncan.

COUCH—BRANKIN

A quiet wedding was solemnized on June 6 at St. Helen's Church, South Westminster, when Gladys May Grantham, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Brankin, became the bride of Mr. Percy Roy Couch, only son of Mrs. H. E. Davies of Vancouver and the late James Couch of Victoria. Rev. Thain officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a smart tailored suit of white wool with a ruffled turquoise blouse and brimmed hat of white felt. A corsage bouquet of roses, lily of the valley and violets completed the costume. Her only attendant was the small flower girl, Lorna MacPherson, wearing white ruffled net and carrying a colonial bouquet of mauve and white violets.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Couch will reside in South Westminster.

CLARKE—WADDINGTON

St. Nicholas's Church, Vancouver, recently was the scene of a pretty wedding when Rev. T. W. Scott united in marriage Elsie Evelyn, eldest daughter of Mrs. M. Waddington, to Mr. Robert Clarke.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. P. F. Waddington of Victoria, wore a gown of white net over taffeta, with a picture hat of silk-embroidered net caught back from the face with a spray of orange blossoms. She was attended by Miss Mary Riley, and Mr. Harold Clarke was best man for his brother.

Mr. W. Baten played the wedding march, and Mr. A. McIlrach sang during the signing of the register. Following the reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke left by motor for the south.

The Victoria Welsh Society will hold a sale of home cooking in Spencer's basement on Saturday morning to help defray expenses of the annual picnic on July 1 at Curlew Park. Ladies are requested to leave donations at Bantyne's, Douglas Street, on Friday or bring them to Spencer's early Saturday morning.

WHEN we first announced that Rinso had been improved, women who had used Rinso for years said, "How could you make Rinso any better; it always has been such a perfect soap?" But then they tried the New 1937 Rinso and joyously stated that it gives 25 to 50% more suds—that it soaks clothes at least 5 shades whiter than ordinary soaps—without scrubbing or boiling.

So, if you haven't used Rinso lately—we urge you to do so. See for yourself how much richer, faster-acting and longer-lasting the New Rinso suds are. Rinso is recommended by the makers of 25 famous Canadian washers. Economical—a little goes a long, long way.

Mrs. H. M. McGivern, the Up-lands, and Miss M. Hardy, R.N., have returned to Victoria after spending the last few weeks in California.

The Misses M. P. and H. T. Barrie of Edinburgh, Scotland, are among visitors to Victoria at present. They registered at the Dominion Hotel yesterday.

Mrs. C. J. Walsh, Mackenzie Avenue, returned yesterday from San Francisco, where she has been spending the last month with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Miller.

Mr. Tommy Forbes of Kelowna, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. C. J. Forbes, Elford Street, will leave tomorrow for the interior.

Miss Mary Peach of Victoria is spending her holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Peach, Calgary, and her mother entertained about 60 guests at the tea hour on Sunday last in her honor.

Hon. John Hart returned to Victoria today after spending the last few days on a fishing trip to Buttle Lake. He was a member of a party which included Mr. F. E. Winslow, Mr. E. W. Mullen and Mr. R. Phipps of Victoria, and Mr. F. Taylor of Vancouver, who are remaining there for a few days more.

Miss Kathleen Wilson, St. Charles Street, who is visiting Mrs. Reginald B. Ross in Vancouver, was among the guests when Mrs. Maxwell Heap entertained at a post-nuptial tea at her home in Vancouver yesterday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Ross. Asked to pour tea during the afternoon were Mrs. W. Percival Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Alexander Gartshore, Mrs. C. G. Pennock, Mrs. John Rose, Mrs. James Eckman and Mrs. R. A. Wylie, while Mrs. Goulding Wilson of Victoria, Mrs. Harry Kirkland, Mrs. G. W. Thompson and Mrs. John Montgomery cut the ices. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Maxwell Heap Jr., Miss Dorothy McRae and Miss Kathleen Wilson of Victoria, who were the bride's attendants at her wedding last November, and also Mrs. Harold Lawson, Mrs. Meredith McFarlane and Mrs. Charles Blacklock.

At her home, "Stoneyhurst," Rockland Avenue, Mrs. Peter G. Barr was hostess at the tea hour this afternoon and yesterday. Blue and white campanula and other summer flowers were arranged throughout the rooms, and the tea table was centred with a bowl of pink antirrhinum and roses, interspersed with slender lighted floral tapers. Pouring tea and coffee yesterday were Mrs. W. J. V. Church and Mrs. W. F. Parker. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. E. T. Simmons, Miss Cynthia Hargraff and Misses Patsy and Margery Barr. The invited guests for both days included Mrs. T. R. Lancaster, Mrs. J. Watson, Mrs. H. T. Goodland, Mrs. T. M. Sherwood (Vancouver), Mrs. W. E. M. Mitchell, Mrs. F. W. Senator and Mrs. G. H. Barnard, "Duvals," Rockland Avenue, entertained at a dinner party last night in honor of Sir Francis and Lady Floud. Col. Guy Rogers of Bath, England, brother of Mrs. Barnard, is a guest at "Duvals."

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Kinsman of Kingsport, Nova Scotia, who have been spending the last three weeks with Mrs. Kinsman's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Gogswell, Chestnut Street, will leave tomorrow for their home in eastern Canada. En route they will visit in Lake Louise, Banff, Winnipeg and in Ottawa. Mrs. Coggswell will accompany them to the mainland and will spend the week-end in Vancouver with friends.

Mrs. E. Raper entertained at her home on Cedar Hill Road for Miss Esther Griffiths, whose marriage will take place on Friday at a kitchen shower. The guests were the members of the Primary Department of St. Aidan's Sunday School, where Miss Griffiths is a teacher. The many gifts were placed behind a lovely pink and green decorated umbrella. Miss Muriel Raper and Barbara Dawson assisted in serving refreshments. The guests included: Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. D. Gilbert and Deana, Mrs. L. G. Scott and Marie, Mrs. L. Green and Fred, Mrs. P. Pottinger and Lois, Mrs. T. Anderson and Fay, Mrs. P. C. Jeffrey and Peter and Ruth and Marjorie Griffiths, David and Bernice Lewis, Bobby and Lorna Rooney, Evelyn Mallett, Aubrey Temblett, Lindsay Deeprose, Jackie Griffiths, Isabel Raper, Valerie Turnbull and Roddie and Willie Turner.

Members of the poetry group of the Authors' Association entertained at a reception at the home of Miss Audrey St. Denys Wood, Windsor Road, yesterday afternoon for Miss Carmen Higgins, who is to be married shortly and to make her home elsewhere. During the afternoon she was presented with a copy of the Oxford Anthology of Verse, autographed by the members of the group. Selections from their own poems were read by Mrs. Doris Ferne, Mr. Donald A. Fraser and Miss Eugenie Perry, and Miss Audrey Wood contributed pianoforte numbers. Tea was served under the direction of Mrs. Sydney Wood, from a table arranged with syringa and roses, and green candles in silver candlesticks. Mrs. Doris Ferne and Mrs. Floris McLaren poured tea. The guests were Mrs. J. H. Higgins, Mrs. C. D. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Manette, Mrs. M. Lane, Mrs. Edwards, Miss Marnie Sullivan, Mrs. Mary Rathom, Mrs. Napper, Mrs. Stacey, Mrs. Jean Mutter, Mrs. Sledge, Mrs. Ebbes-Canavan, Mrs. Beach, Mrs. Nellie McClung, Miss Sarah Jean MacKay, Miss Dorothy Crighton, Miss Johanna Pierce, Rev. J. P. Hicks, Mr. Donald Fraser and Mr. O. Marston.

Dolphin read tea ps, and was presented with a bouquet of roses and delphiniums by Helen Ree. Mrs. J. Dempster, winner of the contest, was presented with a luncheon set.

MANY ATTEND CAMP OPENING

Forty-eight Women and Children Start Holiday at Sooke Resort

With 20 women and 28 children smiling their appreciation of a long-awaited holiday, the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp at Sooke Harbor, maintained by the Friendly Help Welfare Association, was formally opened by Alderman James Adam yesterday afternoon.

To the campers and the 40 visitors who attended the opening despite the inclement weather, Alderman Adam expressed the regret of Mayor Andrew McGavin that he was unable to officiate. He paid tribute to the late Fred Landsberg, who started at Cordova Bay in 1925 the first Sunshine Camp for mothers and children who might not otherwise have been able to enjoy a holiday.

Mr. Landsberg, he said, had an able successor in W. H. Davies, who was noted for his keen interest not only in the Sunshine Camp but also in the happiness of the men of the Old Men's Home.

To have the children out in the fresh country air, receiving a foundation which might lead them to better citizenship, was a great pleasure, he said.

Rev. F. Comley, who acted as chairman, introduced Miss Elizabeth Grubb, general secretary of the Friendly Help Welfare Association, who in turn introduced Miss A. L. McLaughlin, camp supervisor.

Miss McLaughlin spoke briefly of the work of the camp. This year, she said, a party of boys from nine to 12 years of age would be brought to Sooke, as an innovation in the camp schedule. Besides the boys, there would be a group of 'teen-age girls, and three groups of mothers and children. The camp had accommodation for 50. Miss McLaughlin introduced the capable staff of the camp, including Miss D. Cox, the camp mother; Mrs. H. Hodgins, camp nurse; Miss Helen Cameron, recreational leader; Mrs. J. Rhodes, cook, and Miss Muriel Chapman and Miss Violet Cantwell, assistants.

Robert White would be in charge of the boys' camp, with three or four young men as assistants, Miss McLaughlin said. Miss Cox explained the camp routine to the visitors, and emphasized that this year for the first time a public health nurse was in attendance, and would give health instruction to the mothers. For those who were interested, she said, there would be instruction in arts and crafts, such as weaving and rug-making.

W. H. Davies spoke of the improvements made for this year's camp. Several loads of sand had been dumped on the bathing beach, electric lighting had been installed, and the Capitol Iron Works had donated recreational apparatus for the children. Dr. Richard Felton, city health officer, wished the camp success this year and said he took great interest in its progress.

Afternoon tea was served for the visitors and ice cream for the children at the end of the opening addresses. The dining hall in the main building was decorated with flowers for the event.

Sunday afternoon at 3 a special devotional service will be conducted at the camp by a minister yet to be chosen by the Victoria Ministerial Association.

The camp is being operated this year with funds from the recent Friendly Help Welfare Association campaign. It will be open to visitors, Miss McLaughlin stated.

2. The answer is written on

Blind Girl Pianist Praised

European Critics Acclaim Montreal Artiste

LONDON—Mary Munn, blind Montreal girl, is placing Canada in a prominent niche in the international realm of music. Miss Munn has aroused critics of various European capitals to a high pitch of acclaim for her brilliant performances as a concert pianist.

In Berlin, Vienna, Budapest, Paris and London, she has been hailed with enthusiasm and upon her head has fallen such tributes as "superb," "marvellous technique," "master of interpretation." All this praise she has earned despite what ordinarily would be acknowledged as a tremendous handicap. Miss Munn has been blind from birth.

In her latest appearance in London, the Montreal artist won acclaim through a recital of diversified selections ranging from the old masters such as Handel, Bach, Brahms and Beethoven to such moderns as Vaughan Williams, Bela Bartok and Tobias Matthay. Her rendition of Beethoven's sonata in a flat major opera 110, won the most generous applause.

Born in Montreal, Miss Munn was educated at Weston School and started her piano career under the tutelage of Catherine H. Smith. In 1926 she entered McGill University.

About the same time she was awarded the final grade gold medal of the Associated Board of the Royal Academy and Royal College of Music, London.

the first page of a sheet of note paper. The form is the same as for answering any formal invitation.

3. He usually makes some comment, if only to say, "They're fortunate in having such a beautiful day."

4. A dark blue coat and white flannels.

5. Yes, Except the groom's boutonniere is different.

USE A MODERN IRONER FREE FOR TEN DAYS

NOT for sale

We'd like you to use this modern ironer, absolutely free, for ten days! It isn't for sale... we simply want every family to know the advantages of having one. Won't you accept our offer?

See how much better it will do your ironing!

SMALL PIECES

With an ironer, you make a smart job of handkerchiefs, napkins and your small things... in double-quick time. You just drap them over the roller in front of you and the thing's done in a jiffy. You can do as many as four at a time!

BIG FLATWARE

Sheets, tablecloths, net curtains, pillow slips and so on are easy when you have an ironer. You can do them all yourself, in about two-thirds of the time, sitting down at your ease! They certainly look professional, too, when they're done.

TRICKY THINGS

Dad's shirts, your own house dresses and the children's smocks are no trick to do when you have an ironer. Sitting down, you have both hands free to arrange everything just so, and make a really neat job. Safety for sheer fabrics is another great advantage.

HEAVY PRESSING

Suits, pleated dresses, jackets... every kind of pressing... is done better on an electric ironer. Dad and the boys can do their own things, and in much less time. The ironer may be adjusted for clothes cleaning, and you can even "steam" heavy materials like velvets.

You'll want an ironer of your own, once you've used this one... so we want to remark that you can get a lifetime quality ironer from the B.C. Electric for as little as $69.50... Thor, ABC, or Simplex! Terms, payable on your regular B.C. Electric account, so easy you can budget them for your housekeeping allowance. Phone or visit the Washer Department, Garden 7121.

ANDREW and IMOGENE

By ROE FULKERSON

"Andrew, do you think I am clever?" asked Imogene anxiously.

"What a silly question!" protested Andrew.

"Why is it silly?"

"You married me, didn't you?"

"What does that have to do with it?"

"What better evidence could you ask to use in convincing any one, even yourself, that you are a clever woman?"

"You are poking fun at me, Andrew. I am serious!"

"You are a very clever woman," agreed Andrew. "I have always felt so. I have always boasted of your cleverness to other people."

"I want to be clever," said Imogene. "I think there is a great satisfaction in being clever. It is a great comfort."

"I want to be clever in everything. Cleverness brings a great inward glow to the clever person."

"I like to be clever at dancing. You know that I have never danced in public and never will, but when I dance at some little private party, just for fun, I enjoy seeing the look of wonder and admiration on the faces of the people who did not know I could do it. I enjoy the look of envy on the faces of women present, because I have taken the centre of attention for a few moments. I like doing it because I know I do it well. It makes me very happy."

"I want to be clever at conversation. I like to feel that I can keep the ball of small talk bouncing back and forth like a tennis ball, and that when it is my time to speak, I can bring a smile of pleasure or a look of interest to the face of the person to whom I am talking. If the conversation is general, I like to realize that when it is my turn to speak, people will listen. It makes me know that I am rather clever at it, and that makes me happy."

"And while I am talking about conversation, I like to know that I am clever at keeping quiet also. It is really clever to realize that there is a time in every conversation when it is wiser to keep quiet and smile in that inscrutable way which makes people believe that the reason you are keeping silent is that things you are thinking are so much wiser than the things that are being said."

"I like to feel that I am clever because I have kept your interest and attention all the years we have been married. It takes a much more clever woman to stay happily married than it does to get married, Andrew. I believe I am clever enough to make you love me more, now and then, because I am merely a helpless woman, and at other times to make you admire me still more because you suddenly realize that I am far from being a helpless woman, that I am a very efficient housekeeper, a very successful mother, and a mighty nice person to be married to."

"Perhaps I shouldn't say this because I am a married woman and the mother of a nice three-and-a-half-year-old child, but remember that I am still a woman and always will be. I think it is clever of me to stay as attractive as I possibly can. I confess that I still like the admiration of other men. I like to have men want to flirt with me. Of course you wouldn't know it if I didn't tell you, but I am really quite clever at that sort of thing. I know how to make men like me. I know how to be provocative, and I like to be provocative."

"Wicked woman!" said Andrew, smiling at her.

"When I have flirted with other men, I have not and never will tell you what I said to them and what they said to me. It would sound silly," continued Imogene.

"Had it ever struck you that maybe the reason it would sound silly is that it really is silly?" asked Andrew.

"Oh, yes, I had thought of that. Of course it is silly. But it is clever to do silly things now and then, if you realize how silly they are."

"You are clever, all right," said Andrew, still smiling. "Sometimes I wonder just how clever."

Parksville Retains A Distinctive Charm

Offers Excellent Facilities To Vacation Seekers

For those of the business world, there is no medicine like a seaside vacation where clear, clean air, an abundance of pure, fresh food, and recreation, rest and quiet are all available for the cure of frayed and tired nerves. This, if it means anywhere particular, means Parksville, for, if there is one thing more than another this area is noted for, it is popularity as a seaside vacation resort.

Situated, as it is, right on the Island Highway, this little community is a busy place during the summer. Its long stretch of safe, sandy beach, its many auto camps and resorts, its summer cottages and, best of all, its up-to-date and modern stores in the little village, make of Parksville a grand vacation possibility.

PRETTY SUMMER COTTAGES

Among the many summer places dotting the shoreline at Parksville, Stella Maris is perhaps the most picturesque. Standing, as it does, in lovely grounds just above the sea, it presents more the appearance of a delightful private residence. Under the big trees down by the shore Capt. J. Cox has built a number of rustic summer cottages. Everything is clean and comfortable and sanitary conditions are of the best. This is an ideal spot for tired mothers to bring their children, for here they will know the little ones are safe both on the seashore and in the well-fenced grounds. Stella Maris is a little beyond the village, right on the highway. A clear-cut sign stands at the gateway to point the way down to the shore. Cottages may be taken by the week or month.

Right at the village, Mr. E. Gill has a number of pretty cottages he will rent by the day, week or month. These cottages are very modern and up-to-date. Mr. Gill has boats for hire, too, and he claims fishing from his place always brings good luck.

AUTO CAMP ON BEACH

A well-established auto camp is a necessity to any summer community. When it is as ideally situated as Harrison's Parksville Beach Camp it becomes an added attraction. The cabins and cottages are on a grassy slope, under huge shade trees, right on a sandy beach that is perhaps the finest in Parksville. Harrison's is very popular both with children and adults alike, for there is fun for all there. The view from the camp, out over the waters to the tiny islands of the gulf, is perfect. The beach is safe, for a sandbar stretches far out toward the islands. The water is warm and clear for swimming and bathing enthusiasts.

Parksville is also popular with holiday seekers, through the fact that it is the centre of a huge vacation land. Excursions can be made from this tiny community to so many places. Cameron Lake, Alberni, Sproat Lake, Mount Arrowsmith in one direction and, farther north, Qualicum, Forbidden Plateau, Comox and Campbell River and Forbes Landing. Hiking is popular, for there are so many trails to follow. There is riding and tennis and some of the finest fishing, both fresh and salt water, to be found anywhere.

Parksville is perhaps the oldest community on Vancouver Island. In early days it was famed as a rich farming district. Many of the old places are still there, but it is the newer appeal of summer resort that this community now finds its place in the sun.

versed in the ways and needs of summer visitors. For twenty-five years he has been connected with this type of business at Banff and, more recently, Lake Louise. With this experience he has been able to make many changes at The Retreat that will be appreciated by all who visit there. The lodge has been wired for electricity throughout, and accommodation is now such that 15 guests can be taken care of. In the gardens, rustic tea houses have been placed in many ideal spots, for Mr. Coysch plans to serve dainty teas and lunches to passing visitors during the summer.

A PERFECT HOLIDAY

For a quiet, restful holiday, surrounded by everything that makes for comfort and pleasure, The Retreat is a perfect selection. There are tennis courts and a good bathing beach in connection with the lodge. For that Sunday afternoon drive, with something different at the end of it, something perfect to remember, put The Retreat on that list of places to go to. Craig's Crossing is just a comfortable run from Victoria on a summer afternoon.

Magnolias 25 to 30 years old have been transported from North Carolina, to beautify the setting for new Federal buildings in Washington, D.C.

The Retreat Is a Charming Resort

The scent of sweet lavender and the drowsy hum of bees under a warm sun! What a setting for afternoon tea in a pretty garden, for a week-end far away from the city's noise and stir, or a longer vacation spent in a charming spot by the sea. The Retreat, just a mile off the Island Highway at Craig's Crossing near Parksville, offers all this and more. Here is a delightful English countryside cottage, fully modern, yet preserving the picturesque beauty of rambling vines and roses, a profusion of old-fashioned flowers and its wonderful lavender hedge.

specifically with violating the so-called Lindbergh law by conspiring to abduct Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton lawyer, and force from him the false confession to the Lindbergh kidnapping which delayed Hauptmann's death 72 hours.

Tears in his eyes, the elder Parker, after the verdict, commented only that "it would be out of order for me to say anything."

The son, who had patted his weeping wife on the arm as the verdict was read, likewise declined comment.

Three other men—Murray Bleefeld, Martin Schlossman and Harry Weiss—who were placed on trial with the Parkers, pleaded guilty soon after the trial began. Bleefeld and Weiss testified for the government.

PLOT DESCRIBED

They accused the two Parkers of directing the plot to seize Wendel in Brooklyn and obtain the Lindbergh confession from him.

The three are serving sentences imposed at an earlier trial in New York, which grew out of the Wendel affair.

Although the maximum sentence under the law for a conviction such as that of the Parkers is the death penalty, Judge Clark in his charge had ruled out that possibility.

Bail of $25,000 for the younger Parker and $10,000 for his father was continued.

B.C. Farm Returns Record Increases

Value of Agricultural Production Last Year Set at $46,669,735

Better prices for agricultural products added $4,249,743 to the pockets of British Columbia farmers last year and swelled to $46,669,735 the total value of agricultural production, according to the annual statistics just completed by the provincial Department of Agriculture.

The gross values showed an increase of 10.02 per cent over the previous year, and a recovery of $12,295,809, or 35.77 per cent, from the depression low of 1932.

Export of farm produce increased by $641,184 to $8,229,961. Imports increased by $1,745,516 to $14,522,627.

Production of fruits of all kinds totaled 234,194,000 pounds, a decrease of 12.66 per cent, and the total value was $6,095,609, down 8.47 per cent. Although the commercial apple crop declined from 216,078,000 to 194,254,000 pounds, the value was up from $4,319,760 to $4,336,920 due to better prices. The strawberry crop slumped sharply from 11,178,000 pounds to 5,910,000 pounds, with values down from $794,332 to $513,834. The values of other commercial fruit crops with the 1935 figure in brackets follows: crab-apples $93,073 ($76,734); pears $303,154 ($320,185); plums and prunes $176,385 ($266,357); peaches $66,599 ($131,374); apricots $4,042 ($90,025); cherries $215,655 ($204,493); raspberries $179,346 ($219,567); blackberries $32,187 ($35,972); loganberries $68,271 ($108,661); bush fruits $92,364 ($85,809).

The value of vegetable crops gained slightly from $2,266,348 to $2,294,559 with production up from 59,935 to 60,620 tons.

GRAIN YIELDS BETTER

Good yields and improved prices were noted in grains, fodders and roots. Production of grains was up from 7,219,000 to 7,711,000 bushels, and values up by 28.83 per cent from $3,654,000 to $4,708,000.

The wheat yield was 1,487,000 bushels for 59,000 acres, a yield of 25.2 bushels to the acre. The oats yield was 51 bushels to the acre for a total of 5,406,000 bushels.

The value of fodder crops is set at $8,036,000 against $7,265,000 the previous year and of all field crops $16,281,000 against $13,460,000.

POTATO TONNAGE

Total yield of potatoes was estimated at 98,000 tons from 17,500 acres, compared with 95,250 tons from 17,800 acres in 1935. The average price was $27 a ton against $19.

Despite a drop in dairy production, the improved price situation raised the value of all products from $11,667,804 to $12,100,152, a gain of 3.7 per cent. The 1936 values were the highest since 1930, representing a recovery of 29 per cent from the poor year of 1933.

Consumption of fresh milk amounted to 19,285,600 gallons compared with 18,450,000 gallons in 1935. Butter production decreased 4.05 per cent to 5,813,595 pounds. Factory cheese production declined 37.45 per cent to 470,724 pounds. The manufacture of evaporated milk increased slightly to 362,921 cases. Ice cream production gained 19.75 per cent from 587,700 to 703,797 gallons, with values up from $688,238 to $867,472.

A LOT OF EGGS

Livestock of all kinds is valued at $17,558,000, an increase of $1,841,000. Egg production is set at 15,801,000 dozen, compared with 12,853,000 dozen, the gain being 22.93 per cent. Better prices for eggs prevailed.

The value of honey dropped from $193,686 to $169,459. Wool production was up from $126,100 to $148,000; hop production was down from 1,765,000 pounds to 1,602,800 pounds, but the hops were worth 32 cents a pound against 29 cents the previous year.

It was the best year on record for tobacco, with 123,000 pounds produced from 124 acres, against 16,000 pounds from 17 acres in 1935.

Britain and France Praised for Stand

KINGSTON-ON-THAMES, Eng.—The British and French governments had for the first time "shown a little guts," Sir Stafford Cripps said in a speech here Wednesday night, expressing pleasure over Italy-German withdrawal from the neutrality naval patrol because Britain and France had refused to join in a naval demonstration off Valencia, Spain.

A comparatively inexpensive process has been devised to cleanse smoke and fumes by super-sound wave.

MOTHERS! HERE'S THE ANSWER TO YOUR CHILDREN'S QUESTION, "WHAT SHALL WE DO NOW?"

For "indoor days" and parties—Singing Lady Party Kits contain amusing games, masks, favors, invitations, place cards. Also menus, cake decorations. Complete for party of eight children. Ready to use—No scissors—No paste.

Do YOU find it difficult to amuse the children on rainy, "shut-in" days? There's no need to—when they can amuse themselves with the Kellogg's Singing Lady Party Kit!

The Party Kit is always ready to use. It is packed full of suggestions for fun and frolic—yet it can be used without paste or scissors, without littering floors.

As many as eight children can find absorbing pleasure in one Party Kit. Mothers say, "It's as good as toys—especially when I'm busy, or when company comes." And you'll find that children really enjoy "running" their own parties—that it helps to teach them self-reliance.

To obtain your Party Kit right away, send ten cents to cover cost of packing and mailing, and the top of a package of Kellogg's Rice Krispies, with your name and address, to the Kellogg Company of Canada, Ltd., London, Ont. To avoid disappointment, send for your Party Kit today.

SO CRISP they crackle in milk or cream

Black Wins But Leonard Beaten

Former Advances Through First Round of Match Play in P.N.W. Golf

TACOMA — It may have seemed like tough going so far in the Pacific Northwest amateur golf tournament with the wind, the rain and the rough to battle, but the remaining contestants hadn't seen anything compared with today's double killings.

Both the round of 16 and the quarter-finals were scheduled for today and when the firing was over only four were to be left for a chance at the 1937 title.

Seattle had eight representatives, Tacoma three, Portland, Ore., two and Vancouver, B.C., Yakima and Olympia, Wash., one each at the start of the second round of match play.

Heading the parade of surviving sharpshooters were four former Walker Cuppers—defending champion Harry Givan, Jack Westland and Scotty Campbell, Seattle, and Don Moe, Portland—and Kenny Black of Vancouver, B.C., former British Columbia amateur champion, and Bud Ward, Olympia, who was being counted upon by Tacoma fans to keep Seattle from walking off with the crown again. Ward lives in Olympia but is a member of the Tacoma Country Club.

OTHER SURVIVORS

Others who advanced through the first round in a rain storm that left the poor contestants looking like half drowned rats, and who couldn't be taken lightly, were Carl Bowman, Yakima; Don Thompson, Portland; Bill Yost, Bob Van Demark and Chuck Hunter, Tacoma, and Lee Stoll, Rudy Holm, Fred Lyman, Sherman Elworthy and Ralph Whaley, Seattle.

The main casualty was the loss of Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C., ace who recently won the Pacific Northwest open title. He couldn't get going in the storm and bowed to Lyman, 4 and 3.

Champion Givan had a scare when he was forced to the last hole to win 2 up from Harry Miller, Seattle, after making the turn five ahead, and Black had to come from behind to take Joe Rawlings, 2 and 1, after losing three of the first four holes.

Former champions getting the gong were Forest Watson and Dixie Fleager, Seattle, and Rudie Wilhelm, Portland.

WOMEN'S TOURNEY

Portland had four survivors, Tacoma three and Seattle one when the women transferred their quarter-final matches from the Fircrest Club to the Tacoma Club today.

Champion Marian McDougall continued her winning pace in her drive for her third straight title and today was down to meet Mrs. E. E. Eva, her fellow-towns-woman. Yesterday Marian eliminated Miss Elizabeth Tanner, Seattle, 6 and 5.

Other survivors and their pairings today were:

Miss Nancy Hurst, Portland, vs. Miss Barbara Winn, Seattle; Mrs. E. E. Griggs, Tacoma, vs. Mrs. W. H. Dean, Tacoma; and Miss Joan Mahon, Tacoma, vs. Miss Olive Lewis, Portland.

In the double play-offs for medal honors Scotty Campbell defeated Westland by five strokes with a sub-par 70 at the Tacoma course, and Miss Hurst defeated

Mrs. J. K. Priebe, Seattle, by four strokes with an 86 at the Fircrest Club. Scotty shot 35-35, or two under par. It was the second time he had won the medal prize in the Northwest meet.

STACEY BIKE RACE JULY 1

Fourth Annual Meet to Be Held at Sidney; Five Events on Programme

The fourth annual Sidney and District Stacey Cup bicycle race, will be held July 1 at Sidney, starting at 5 in the evening, George Robinson, secretary of the Victoria Cycling Club, announced today. Five events are listed on the programme.

The major race of the evening will be for the coveted Stacey Cup, which includes two classes: Class A, racing and semi-racing bicycles, open; class B, racing and semi-racing bicycles, boys under 16. The cup will go to the rider making the best time in either of these classes. The approximate distance is eight and a half miles.

Other events listed include a mile open event, a half mile race for boys under 13, a mile for boys under 16 (North Saanich riders only), and a half mile event for girls (North Saanich riders only). The Harvey Challenge Cup is at stake in the girls' race.

The route for the mile and a half mile events will be down Beacon Avenue to Stacey's Hall. The big race will start at Stacey's Hall.

A large entry of crack peddle-pushers from Victoria, Saanich and other districts is expected for this popular bike meet. Entry forms can be secured from George Robinson.

The races have been sanctioned by the Canadian Wheelmen's Association. A small entry fee will be charged for the mile and Stacey Cup races. There will be no fee for the other races.

SPORTS MIRROR

Mike Jacobs, co-promoter of the Chicago fight, is certainly stealing the thunder and spotlight from Madison Square Garden, who used to be the big shots in the fight racket. The latest move by the former Broadway ticket scalper is to sign Louis to a five-year contract giving him exclusive rights on the new champion's services.

Jacobs also holds a contract with Braddock, so it looks like the Garden is left holding the bag. Jacobs was the one mainly responsible for getting Braddock to desert the Schmeling fight with the Garden and tackle Louis.

WRESTLING

Montreal—Danno O'Mahoney, 234, Ireland, won on default from George Clarke, 230, Scotland, when Clarke withdrew because of a back injury.

PTE. ROBINS WINS MATCH

Defeats Sergt. Ashe, Also of Victoria, in B.C.R.A. Shoot-off

VANCOUVER—Private C. L. Robins, Victoria, yesterday scored a possible 25 to take the British Consols No. 1 match from his fellow townsman, Sergt. A. E. Ashe, in the second day of competition in the British Columbia Rifle Association's fifty-ninth annual meet at the Blair Rifle Range, North Vancouver.

Sergeant Ashe scored 23 in the shoot-off yesterday after tying with Private Robins in first place Tuesday, each scoring 102 of a possible 105.

Private Robins, winner of the King's Medal in 1936, took second place in the Vancouver Coronation match, losing out to A. S. Campbell, V.R.A., in the shoot-off. Campbell, a green shot, scored 24 of a possible 25, and Private Robins 22. Lance-Corporal A. E. Biddlecome, B.C.R., dropped out of the shoot-off after a bad start.

ANOTHER SHOOT-OFF

Sergeant Ashe tied with three other contenders in the Westminster match, but lost out in the first five targets of the shoot-off, won by Corporal A. H. Greenwood, R.C.A.F., who counted seven bullseyes against six and an inner by Constable F. G. Sullivan, R.C.M.P.

Private H. Thorburn, Esquimalt, scored 94 in the Duff Stuart match to take second place behind A. S. Campbell, who won the event with 96.

Other scores:
Westminster Match—Pte. N.

Stephen, G.R.A., Esquimalt, 66; Capt. W. E. Tapley, C.S.R., Victoria, 66; Q.M.S. W. B. McKay, G.R.A., Esquimalt, 65; Private Robins, G.R.A., 65; Sergt.-Major E. J. Read, G.R.A., 65; Sergt. J. H. Ross, G.R.A., 61.

Fifth Brigade Ball Victors

Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade trounced the Odd Fellows, 18 to 5, in a six-inning D section softball game yesterday evening at Beacon Hill Park, while The Times softballers went down to defeat 8 to 1 at the hands of Palais de Danse at the top diamond at Beacon Hill. Playing on their home grounds, Saanichton defeated the Civil Service 16 to 14.

Golf Lecture This Evening

Professional Freddy Clunk of the Gorge Vale Club will give the second of a series of outdoor golfing instructions this evening around the ninth green, commencing at 7. Clunk will deal with the short game, chip shots, approaching to the pin and recoveries from sand pits. Members and their friends are invited to attend.

LA DITZI TO MEET HANSON

Rugged New Yorker Will Meet Clever Mormon Boy in Main Mat Tussle

Rudy LaDitzi, rugged New York Italian, who runs a close second to James Casey Morrissey, the ex-Red Shadow, as the super badman of the squared ring, will return to the Tillicum gym Saturday night where he will appear in the spotlight bout.

For his opponent Fred Richardson, promoter, has secured colorful Billy Hanson, Mormon wrestler from Salt Lake City. Hanson's clever performance last Saturday night when he met Paul Boesch made such a fine impression with the local fans that the promoter immediately signed him for a return bout.

LaDitzi is one of the toughest in the game and is a past master at handling out all sorts of treatment. In his bout last week Hanson used nothing but orthodox tactics, but there were times during the match when it looked as though he would have liked to open up with some rough stuff.

Four more out-of-town grapplers will appear in the other two main tussles. A local preliminary will open the show at 8.45.

F. F. Pease Is Golf Champion

Finishing with a net score of 66, F. F. Pease, of Laurence Smith and Company, won the annual golf tournament of the Victoria bond dealers held yesterday at the Colwood Golf Club.

Nectar II Wins Race in England

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, England — Sir Edmund Bushby's Nectar II, starting at 100 to 8, Wednesday won the Northumberland Plate over two miles, defeating Marshall Field's Signature by a short head. Sir Abe Bailey's Weatherlane, three lengths behind Signature, was third in the field of 11.

Signature started at 11 to 2 and Weatherlane at 7 to 1. The winner is a four-year-old chestnut son of Honneck out of Choula. The race was worth about $5,940.

Two Slain By Denver Police

One Identified as W. Seelert, Hunted for Killing Deputy Sheriff

DENVER, Colo.—Two men, one identified by Detective George Miller as Walter Seelert, sought for the slaying of Deputy Sheriff S. R. Jackson of Lewis County, Wash., were shot to death by Denver detectives today.

The other man was tentatively identified by Detective Captain James E. Childers as C. B. Wilson, formerly of Deadwood, S.D.

Detective Miller said the two men began shooting when he and five other detectives entered a boarding house to arrest Seelert.

The officers in turn opened fire, killing both outright, Miller said. None of the detectives was hurt.

Members of the Ladies' Aid of the Belmont United Church held their annual picnic Tuesday afternoon at the Japanese tea gardens, the Gorge. A short business meeting was held and a presentation was made by the president, Mrs. F. Emery, to Mrs. James Hood, who is leaving Belmont Church at the end of the month to work in Esquimalt United Church. The committee in charge of the affair were: Mesdames G. A. Butler, L. Benson, A. Parfitt and G. Webber. The next meeting will be held September 28.

Los Angeles — Dean Detton, 205, Salt Lake City, drew with Vincent Lopez, 20, Los Angeles (each won one fall, both injured trying for deciding fall).

HONOR ROLL SYSTEM OUT*No Certificates for Proficiency, Department, Attendance This Year

The issuance of honors rolls for proficiency, deportment and regularity and punctuality will be discontinued this year throughout the elementary schools of British Columbia, the Department of Education announced today.

In announcing its decision the department indicated only a certain portion of B.C. schools had used the honor roll system during recent years and it had been considered wise to abandon the system.

It was pointed out that in the case of children who were seeking the attendance rolls on many occasions the pupils would attend schools with communicable diseases when they should be home in bed.

REALTY DEAL BEFORE COURT*Commission Claimed on Astor Apartment Sale in Court Dispute

Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court this morning reserved judgment on the suit of W. J. Gilliland and Son to recover $375 in commission on a real estate sale from Mrs. L. E. Fox. The case had to do with a deal by which J. A. Playfair purchased the Astor Apartment block on Rockland Avenue from Mrs. Fox. Real estate men of the city have been attending the hearing for the last two days.

The plaintiff, represented by J. B. Clearhugh, K.C., claimed that he had found the purchaser for Mrs. Fox and was entitled to commission although the actual deal was finally closed by another agent.

N. W. Whittaker, K.C., for the defendant, claimed that she had terminated any arrangement she had with the plaintiff before handing the deal over to the second agent.

This morning's session was devoted to counsel's arguments and quoting of lengthy legal references.

The Rotary Club of Victoria went on a 10,000-mile air trip through Central and South America at its luncheon today through the medium of colored motion pictures.

Norman Holland, Montreal, head of Brandram-Henderson Paint Company, showed the club a long reel which he had taken during a business trip last summer involving 10,062 miles of flying, 2,000 miles by car, 1,900 by train and another 1,000 by ship, through 13 countries.

"Only a fool could have got them" was the way Mr. Holland described these unique sequences. "A professional man would have known there was not enough light."

The sequences in question showed a sunrise as seen from a plane flying at 7,000 feet, "the shadow of the plane moving along the bottom of a shallow piece of ocean, and lightning playing off the wing tip of the machine during a severe tropical thunderstorm."

Before showing the pictures Mr. Holland gave some of his impressions of air travel and of the habits and scenery of some of the countries he visited. The pictures which he showed of Mayan ruins in Mexico were the first ever taken in color, he said.

The speaker was introduced by Herbert J. Pendray, recently returned from a world cruise. Frank I. Doherty presided.

Robert Armstrong and Ernest H. Wilson were elected to membership in the club.

Output From Fisheries Up

Production of British Columbia fisheries in 1936 was better than had been calculated, it was shown when final figures reached here from Ottawa today, showing a total value of $17,231,534 for all products.

This was a gain of more than $2,000,000 over the 1935 value of $15,169,529.

The salmon fishery was worth $13,387,344, with canned salmon alone running to $11,128,636.

In its earlier estimates the Fisheries Department had placed the industry's output last year at $16,500,000.

J. Knott for alterations to 87 Howe Street at a cost of $150; Henry Watson for repairs worth $240 at 1633 Walton Street and Mrs. V. Kitson for repairs at 491 Superior Street.

Nothing Heard on Immigrant Plan

The B.C. Fisheries Department today reported to Hon. George S. Pearson, the commissioner, that a proposal reported from London to bring 300 Scottish fishermen and their families out to the British Columbia coast is a "complete mystery" to canning and fish operators of the province.

Mr. Pearson had issued instructions the reports be investigated, as he said the labor market in the fishing industry was already over supplied.

The Fisheries Department said it had been unable to discover any trace of the plan, and after contacting canners was informed no contracts had been offered the Scottish fishermen, nor were any contemplated.

Preparing for Tweedsmuir Visit

A young men's forestry training crew has already gone into the district to do trail work.

Premier Pattullo said today Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, will represent the province with the vice-regal party in August.

The male emu, which takes complete care of the young birds, sometimes starts to sit upon the nest even before the female has laid the eggs.

Planes Are Boon To North Country*Tourists, However, Lose Much of the Romance of the Yukon if They Fly

By J. K. NESBITT

The Yukoners, like most dwellers in the lonely stretches of the world, have been quick to take to aviation, and realize more than most people just how valuable the plane is when it comes to speedy transportation to almost inaccessible places.

Ten years ago the Yukon Territory was a vast ice and snow-bound region for eight months of the year. There was no transportation except by dog team. Settlers in their lonely cabins along the river banks saw no human soul for months on end. If they became sick there was no way of letting anyone know. Now they can build a fire or erect some signal and there is sure to be a plane flying about within a week at the latest.

But flying has taken a great deal of the picturesqueness out of the Yukon. There are not many long treks by dog team over the snow and ice, although the traders, trappers and prospectors still have their huskies and use them for short runs in the winter.

On a trip up and down 460 miles of the Yukon this month I had an opportunity to see just what the airplane has done for the north country. No wonder flying has come into its own up there. Places which were formerly weeks apart are now separated by a few hours.

Nearly everyone in Alaska and the Yukon flies, when they want to get anywhere. It is the only comfortable means of transportation in the winter, when the rivers and lakes are frozen. The only other method is by tractor over winter trails, which are tiring, long, cold and rough.

A ROUGH ROAD

From the comfortable decks of the new stern-wheeler Klondike, on her maiden trip, I saw parts of the winter trail. At a number of points it crosses the river, over the ice, of course. About twice a week a trip is made between Dawson and Whitehorse. The going is pretty tough. Two operators are carried and while one sleeps the other drives. The trip takes between 40 and 50 hours, depending on the amount of snow encountered. No one would make that trip unless it was absolutely necessary.

Compare such a trip with an airplane flight of two hours. Old-timers, with a love that never dies for the Yukon River, when coming "outside" will fly from Dawson to Whitehorse, because it takes four days upstream, and take the river boat back, a trip of only 36 hours.

The tourist, however, is well advised to keep away from airplanes, unless he is in a mad rush. The boat trip on the Yukon is the greatest tourist attraction in the territory. There is very little to be seen from the air, and most tourists who fly are disappointed. They see no snow in the summer and the great Yukon appears a muddy, winding stream.

ROMANCE LOST

You lose the romance of the Yukon if you fly. You meet none of the happy and rare souls who dwell along the river banks, in log cabins and tents, who spend their time cutting wood and trapping. A plane just flies over them. On the boat you have a chance to talk with them at the various stops.

But flying has certainly made living in the Yukon more pleasant. That feeling of complete isolation has gone, although most of the old-timers like such a feeling.

The tourists feel sorry for us when the last boat goes out in the fall," said one woman to me at Selkirk. "But we don't feel sorry for ourselves. We can then settle down to the beauties and the thrills of the winter. Truth to tell, we feel rather sorry for the tourists who have to go outside."

With the airplane doctors are only a few miles away at the most, depending, of course, on weather conditions. Northern fliers are famous for their mercy flaps. They think nothing of braving sub-zero weather to fly a few hundred miles to some trapper's cabin in the heart of mountain passes and take him medical aid. Many a person is alive in the Yukon today who would be dead had it not been for the plane.

FAITH NEVER SHAKEN

Some of North America's finest pilots are stationed in the north. Flying in Alaska and the Yukon is remarkably free from accident. Occasionally, when there is a mishap, no one's faith in aviation is shaken. Residents in lonely outposts, who scorn such luxuries as telephones and baths, electric light and vacuum cleaners, feel mighty glad they can tap the telegraph wires and call for an airplane, if necessary.

Two or three times a month now the Yukoners can receive mail from friends outside. A lot of the mail is still delivered by dog team. The cry of "Mush, you maulmutes!" is not quite dead and never will be. But the planes carry the bulk of the mail.

They also carry many other things. In the fall they fly vast quantities of eggs into isolated settlements. Dawson residents are enabled to receive fresh turkeys in time for Christmas. Fruits from California are also flown in during the winter, although the price is high.

A few weeks ago a woman passenger on a river steamer on the long trip up-stream was taken ill. The captain nosed his vessel into the bank. The pursuer went ashore with his portable key and tapped the telegraph wire which runs along the bank. He asked Whitehorse for a doctor. An hour later a plane sat down on the river and the doctor was at the sick woman's side. Before the days of the plane it would have taken two days to reach medical assistance.

RESCUED BY PLANES

Last year two steamers were wrecked on some of the treacherous reaches of the Yukon. The passengers and crew got safely ashore, the telegraph wires were tapped, and a few hours later a couple of planes arrived to fly the shipwrecked parties to Dawson and Whitehorse. Passengers, under similar conditions a few years ago, might have had to walk.

An airplane trip in the north country is quite an experience. A sightseeing trip of an hour or so suffices, however, unless one is anxious to say he has flown several hundred miles. The airplane trip over Skagway, portal to the Yukon, is one of the most interesting in the north.

There are planes there that take sightseers over the White Pass to Lake Bennett and return them to Skagway over the Chilkoat Pass. A magnificent panorama unfolds below. There are giant snow-capped peaks, frozen lakes, mighty blue and mauve and green glaciers that look as if they might slide from their mountain perches; thundering waterfalls, and beyond, in the distance, the majestic Lynn Canal, with its walls of solid, snowclad rocks.

Herbert Wheeler, president of the White Pass and Yukon Railway, for forty years a resident of the north, is one of the most ardent fliers in the north.

Going north we left Skagway on a Wednesday morning. We traveled to Whitehorse and took the steamer to Dawson, had a visit there and returned to Whitehorse and Skagway the next Wednesday evening—seven full days. Mr. Wheeler, in the meantime, had spent a couple of days at his headquarters in Skagway, flew to Whitehorse for a day, then to Mayo, from there to Dawson for a day and back to Skagway, where he had been for two days when we returned.

The people of Fairbanks, Alaska, and Dawson have been brought close together by the airplane and flying between the two points is popular. In March the citizens of Fairbanks stage a great ice carnival. Many of the Dawson people fly over for the event and are honored guests. In August Dawson puts on its Discovery Day celebrations and the folk from Fairbanks fly into the Yukon, where, in turn, they are the guests of honor. A few years ago such an exchange of visits was impossible.

High Scoring In Rifle Meet*Three Vancouver Shots Score Possibles in First Stage of Governor's

Blair Rifle Range, North Vancouver—Three Vancouver scores were tied with possible scores this morning in the first round of the Lieutenant-Governor's match in the third day of the British Columbia Rifle Association's 59th annual meet.

F. Drysdale, S. Campbell, winner of yesterday's Vancouver Corporation Match, and Private I. M. Grant of the Irish Fusiliers of Canada each scored a possible 35 on the 200-yard range.

Close behind with scores of 34 came Gwen Spencer-Hethy, C.S.R., R.M.S.; E. M. Wort, G.R.A.; N. C. de B. Green, R.N.R.; Sgt. A. E. Ashe, G.R.A., and Cons. S. C. Sullivan, V.R.A.

Ram Singh was fined $10 and $2.50 costs when he was convicted in the Provincial Police Court yesterday on a charge of operating a limited freight carrier without the licence required under the Highway Act.

OBITUARY*THOS. JOSEPH RILEY

Funeral services for Capt. Thomas Joseph Riley will be held in Sands Mortuary tomorrow afternoon at 2, under the auspices of the Far West Victoria Lodge, K. of P. Interment will be in Colwood Burial Park. It is requested no flowers be sent.

JAMES C. CORKLE

In the presence of relatives and many friends, funeral services for James Crawford Corkle took place yesterday afternoon, Rev. T. H. McAllister officiating. Mrs. S. M. Morton sang the solo, "Face to Face," and the hymns were "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Peace, Perfect Peace." Many beautiful flowers surrounded the casket. H. B. Fanthorpe, R. Fanthorpe, D. Fanthorpe, C. Wooley, A. R. Smith and M. Kerr acted as pallbearers. Interment was in the family plot, Ross Bay Cemetery.

FANNY SIMPSON

Miss Fanny Simpson passed away today at the family residence, 3252 Seaton Street, aged 74 years. Born in Hamilton, Ont., Miss Simpson came to Victoria 17 years ago, and made her home with her sister, Mrs. N. B. Vaughn. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Wilson, and Mrs. N. B. Vaughn, both of Seaton Street; also two nephews. Funeral services will be conducted in the Sands Mortuary on Saturday at 2. Rev. F. W. McKinnon will officiate and interment will be in Colwood Burial Park.

EMMANUEL ROCHON

Emmanuel Rochon, a resident of Victoria and district for 46 years, passed away yesterday at the family residence, Mount Newton Cross Roads, aged 65. He was a native of Montreal and was a member of Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion, and for many years was choirmaster of Assumption Catholic Church, Saanich. He is survived by his widow; one son, Adolphe, at the family residence; one sister, Mrs. J. Dames, 1176 Yates Street; and three brothers, Francis and Joseph, Vancouver, and Hilaire, Victoria; also nieces and nephews. The cortege will leave the Sands Mortuary on Saturday at 9.15 a.m. for the Assumption Church, West Saanich Road, where Rev. E. M. Sheelen will celebrate mass at 10. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

FIFTH PLANS ANNUAL CAMP*Close to 350 Men Will Go Under Canvas on Plains of Fort Macaulay

Paying tribute to the seventy-fifth anniversary of his regiment, Lieut.-Colonel M. A. Kent will lead his Coast Defence Battalion to camp at Fort Macaulay, Esquimalt, on Saturday morning. The batteries, comprising the Coast Brigade, are the 55th, under command of Major B. R. Ker; the 56th, commanded by Major Vincent McKenna; the 60th, commanded by Major R. E. A. Diespeker, with the Anti-aircraft, under the command of Major George Paulin.

The 11th Fortress Signals, under the command of Major Gwynn and the Company of Fortress Engineers, under the command of Capt. Macintosh, will also attend the camp. The addition of these two units will increase the camp strength this year to fifty officers and 300 men.

CHURCH PARADE

The assembly parade has been called for 10 Saturday morning, when the details of camp organization will be carried out. On Sunday morning a church parade will be held at 11 under Capt. Rev. Allen Gardner. This parade will be attended by all units and members of the permanent staff at Work Point Barracks. Camp muster has been called for noon.

Colonel Kent's term of command has witnessed a growth in numbers and efficiency, which has resulted in the old Fifth Regiment establishing a record for attendance since the old days prior to 1914. This year's camp promises to produce the best results since that time.

All batteries have recruited close to the limit of their increased establishment, and are keenly looking forward to their annual training on the picturesque historical plains of Macaulay Point, overlooking the Straits and the entrance to Esquimalt Harbor.

Mrs. Armand Massey, 402 Bay Street, suffered cuts about the knees and face from flying glass in an automobile collision on Hillside Avenue, near Cedar Hill Road, yesterday afternoon, according to a city police report. The cars were driven by Mr. Massey and James McMillan, 1489 Myrtle Street. Mrs. Massey was taken home in the C. and C. ambulance and attended by Dr. Hermann Robertson. The Massey car was reported badly damaged.

ITALY THREAT, NOT GERMANY*M. L. Green, Correspondent, Visits 45 Countries in Three Years

Since his last visit here three years ago, Marc L. Greene, foreign correspondent for The Christian Science Monitor, The Baltimore Sun and a number of other leading papers and magazines, has traveled more than 100,000 miles in 45 countries.

Sitting this morning in the lobby of the Strathcona Hotel, where he arrived yesterday, Mr. Greene told something of his observations during those last three years of continuous travel. He believes the real danger in Europe is Mussolini and not Hitler. "There would be no trouble fixing things up with the Germans, but the Roman madman is the real menace," he said.

He described the Italian dictator as a megalomaniac in a desperate state who would go to any ends to get out of it. "There is a great deal to be said for Hitler," he added. "He at least respected the sense of self-respect. He does not dominate the military establishment as Mussolini does."

In all parts of the world he found two common trends, reactionary upper houses, backed by financial interests, blocking progressive legislation by governments, and militarist parties pressing views to a large extent contrary to those of the politicians.

JAPAN FOR PEACE

Mr. Greene came here from Japan.

"The Japanese people, especially the bourgeoisie and the industrialists and banking interests are all anxious for peace," he said. "They realize their existence depends on trade expansion."

However, Mr. Greene does not believe the recent change of cabinet represents any real change in the country's policy. The Hayashi government was a little too flagrant in its attitude, but it represented the opinion of the army just as much as the present cabinet does in a more discrete manner, he said. It was still the militarist caste that dictated Japan's policy.

The feeling of suspicion of the Japanese towards foreigners was largely the fault of the other countries, he said. The Japanese were an exceptionally sensitive people, and had been subjected to a good many unpleasant comments by western nations.

Mr. Greene plans to stay about two weeks in Victoria, resting and preparing the outline of a book on Japan which he will write shortly.

"I came here in preference to Vancouver because this is a much more pleasant place," he said.

Special Song For Showboat

With guest artists and a special new song for Victoria's 75th birthday, Gladys Mavins and her Pierrots will appear on the Show Boat tomorrow evening. The song includes a stanza dealing with the Gyro drive for a sports forum here.

Sunday evening at 9 the Salvation Army Silver Band of Vancouver will play, and July 3 the Irish Fusiliers Band of Vancouver will give an afternoon performance on the Show Boat from 3.30 to 5.

The Metropolitan Symphony Orchestra of Vancouver, conducted by Dr. Almond Harper, will play that evening. Garfield White will be master of ceremonies. The orchestra will also give a concert in Beacon Hill Park the next afternoon.

Col. T. S. Belcher Called By Death*Former Deputy Commissioner of R.C.M.P. Dies at North Vancouver

NORTH VANCOUVER—Colonel Thomas Sherlock Belcher, sixty-five, retired deputy commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, died in a hospital here Wednesday after a short illness.

Born in Cork, Ireland, Col. Belcher came from a distinguished family. An ancestor, Sir Edward Belcher, commanded an Arctic expedition which made Esquimalt, B.C., its base when it sailed in 1852, in search of the Sir John Franklin party.

Col. Belcher served in the "mounties" for 40 years. He was stationed in Dawson during the gold rush days of 1897. He retired four years ago. He came to Vancouver a year ago.

Stuart Henderson Suspension Lifted By Appeal Court if Terms Met

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Court of Appeal has lifted its 13-month suspension of Stuart Henderson on condition the Victoria barrister enter into a $500 recognizance to be of good behavior and not be guilty of any contempt of the court for the rest of the year.

Mr. Henderson was suspended from Appeal Court sessions in May, 1936, for refusal to apologize to the court or withdraw criticism of Chief Justice Aulay Morrison of the British Columbia Supreme Court. The veteran lawyer was appealing the conviction and death sentence of the Indian George brothers, whose last trial was heard by the chief justice, when he made his remarks concerning Chief Justice Morrison.

Last week Mr. Henderson made his first appearance before the Appeal Court since the suspension order. He was appealing the auto theft conviction and one year sentence of John Caird of Victoria.

At that time Chief Justice Archer Martin of the Appeal Court pointed out the court's order had not been complied with and adjourned consideration of the matter until this week.

ANSWERED QUESTIONS

The observations which resulted in his ban had been invited by the court itself, Mr. Henderson explained during the Appeal Court sitting Wednesday afternoon. He said he was only answering questions addressed to him by the then chief justice of the Appeal Court, Hon. J. A. Macdonald, since retired.

"I am not going to in any way apologize," declared Mr. Henderson. "When I am asked a question in court I am going to tell the truth. I have been doing it for 50 years and I am not going to change now."

"Two men have been hanged because I was not permitted to put the man in the witness box," he continued, referring to the court's refusal that he call a witness to prove his assertions.

"I am not considering an apology for one second," the veteran barrister added.

"I answered the questions of the chief justice truthfully, just as if I was in the witness box on oath. Why I should be committed is absolutely beyond me."

If he had committed a contempt of court he should have been fined or imprisoned and there should have been a time limit. Even an execution had time limit, Mr. Henderson said.

MISCONCEPTION EXISTED After retiring to consider the justices returned.

There had been a misconception in thinking Mr. Henderson was ordered to apologize, explained Chief Justice Martin. The majority view at the time the order was pronounced was that Mr. Henderson could not appear before the court until he withdrew his allegations.

Mr. Henderson was then gravely admonished and severely censured for contemptuous conduct before the court in that he reflected unjustifiably on the conduct of the learned trial judge and refused to withdraw the reflection when called on to do so.

The $500 recognizance order was then read and Mr. Henderson's present appeal case adjourned till June 26 to give him time to furnish the recognizance. In default of compliance the ban will be continued.

TWO STARS IN STRONG ROLES

Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck in "This Is My Affair" at Capitol

Two great stars, Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck, achieve their true greatness together in "This Is My Affair," which opened today at the Capitol Theatre.

In "This Is My Affair," both Taylor and Miss Stanwyck find the most important story either one has ever had, a dramatic account of a love supremely courageous and unashamed, endangering the nation's highest places and gambling life itself for a higher stake.

The supporting cast includes Sidney Blackmer, John Carradine, Alan Dinehart, Douglas Fowley, Robert McWade, Frank Conroy and Sig Ruman. Darryl F. Zanuck, vice-president in charge of production at Twentieth Century-Fox, chose William A. Seiter to direct the original screen play by Allen Rivkin and Lamar Trotti.

NEW SONGS IN COWBOY SHOW

"The Old Corral" Presented Today at the Columbia Theatre

Two new songs by Gene Autry, composer of more than 300 cowboy ballads; two operatic arias by Hope Manning, feminine lead; a repertoire of songs and music by Sons of the Pioneer, and an eccentric musical number by Smiley Burnette, who plays five instruments at the same time, comprise the lyrical-melody contribution to Republic's "The Old Corral."

This latest Autry musical, which opens today at the Columbia Theatre, features a clash between western deputies and a gang of eastern gunmen, with an exciting cross-country bus and automobile race adding to the general interest.

Directed by Joseph Kane, the picture also features Lon Chaney Jr., John Bradford, Cornelius Keefe, Ken Cooper, Frank Mills and Mark Kramer.

"The Go Getter" At Dominion

Among the never-forgotten characters of magazine fiction is picturesque Cappy Ricks, created by the popular novelist, Peter B. Kyne.

Cappy appears in "The Go Getter," which will open at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

The opening scene of "The Go Getter" is one of the most dramatic of the screen, showing the fatal plunge of the dirigible Macon into the Pacific.

Other notables in the cast include Henry O'Neill, John Eldredge, Joseph Crehan, Helen Vaulkis, Helen Lowell, Minerva Urecal, Harry Beresford, Herbert Dawlinson and Eddie Acuff.

"Prince—Pauper" Coming to Atlas

According to Mark Twain's story, "The Prince and the Pauper," is one of those things that "might have happened."

It is the tale of two boy babies born in London at the same moment in the 16th century—one being Prince Edward, heir to the throne; the other being Tom Cady, brat of a ruffian and thief. And Twain had them resemble each other identically—meet—change clothes—get their childish lives all mixed up.

It was a great novel and it became a great stage play. Now it has reached its top heights as a movie, which comes to the Atlas Theatre tomorrow.

"Bengal Tiger" Combines Intense Drama and Colorful Background

No more colorful and picturesque drama has been presented on the screen than that of the new Warner Bros. production, "Bengal Tiger," which is shown at the Plaza Theatre today.

The picture is a real circus, presenting all the big acts of the main tent together with side-shows and the general atmosphere of the circus.

All the thrills and excitement and adventure of the circus are found in the picture, the plot centring particularly about the big cages of the lions and tigers and other wild beasts, with Satan, a man-killing Bengal tiger, as the big menace.

Showing on the same programme is "Wanted: Jane Turner," starring Gloria Stuart and Lee Tracy.

The Story of Baseball

IV--INTERESTING FACTS

The early rule about 21 runs being enough to win a baseball game was changed, and the teams were allowed to make as many runs as they could in nine innings. Here are a few of the scores after the rule was changed, made in 1869 by the Cincinnati Red Stockings:

Christy Mathewson, after throwing his famous "fade-away."

Red Stockings 39, Boston Harvards 11.

Red Stockings 45, Philadelphia Keystones 30.

Red Stockings 66, San Francisco Pacifics 4.

Red Stockings 103, Cincinnati Buckeyes 8.

The Red Stockings were a fine team, but they were not the only players who made big scores. Every now and then in those days a team made more than 100 runs in a game. The ball contained two or three ounces of rubber in its centre and could be batted a long distance. The present official baseball does not contain so much rubber, and has a cork centre.

No gloves were used in early baseball games. Players had to catch batted and thrown balls in their bare hands. Often their hands or fingers were "burned" by fast balls. In 1875, a Boston ball player named Charles Waite put a flesh-colored glove on his left hand. He was ashamed to use it, because he thought people would call him a "sissie." They did make jokes about his "soft" hands.

A. G. Spalding, a pitcher, later put on a kid glove, cutting the back of it away "to let the air in." This did not help enough, so he put a thin pad inside the glove, covering the palm of his hand. Still later came the well-padded glove which was called "the pillow mitt."

The wire mask to protect the catcher was invented about 65 years ago. A baseball-playing doctor was a pioneer in using it, and a newspaper account tells us, "The players 'guyed' him for wearing it." They said it was "babyish" and cowardly to wear a protection to the face. Present-day catchers are not afraid of being called "babies." In addition to masks, they often wear chest-protectors and shin guards. At an early date, it was learned that a pitcher could throw a ball so it would curve before crossing the plate. For years after the discovery there were debates as to whether the wind was the only thing which could make a ball curve, but the players knew the curves were made by the spinning motion of the ball.

Christy Mathewson and Walter Johnson are two of the famous pitchers in baseball history. Mathewson won many games for the New York Giants by pitching his "fade-away" drop. This curving ball was a puzzle to batters, and many of them were struck out.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1937. Astrologers read this as a rarely fortunate day in planetary direction. Benefic aspects strongly govern the affairs of earth dwellers.

Women are especially lucky while this configuration prevails. They should employ their energies in pursuits that express their highest aspirations.

This is an auspicious day for love affairs. Men and women of various ages will be unusually susceptible.

Persons long past youth will marry before the end of 1937, for there will be a desire for companionship that is part of the presence of world conflict.

This should be a happy wedding day, even though it is Friday. Those who marry under this direction of the stars will not be easily deceived in the characters of those they love.

Artistic and business enterprises should be pushed today, for it stimulates initiative and imparts practical foresight.

The configuration encourages wise leadership among both men and women. Plans for aggressive policies in education, religious campaigns and reform movements should be made today.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of extraordinary good fortune. Work and property are pre-arranged for men and women.

Children born on this day probably will be gifted in various ways. Subjects of this sign may be extremely intellectual.

Arthur Chapman, writer, was born on this day, 1873.

The Koala bear of Australia is not really a bear, but a tail-less marsupial, carrying its young in an external pouch.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX--I have a sister who has about the grandest mother-in-law in the world. Although this woman is not young, she works hard in a store and not only supports herself but spends more money on my sister and her husband than she should.

She has been trying in every way to win my sister's love, but without avail. If her husband meets his mother on the street or in a bus, he is afraid to mention it at home for it is sure to bring on an awful row. If he uses any initiative in anything he undertakes, my sister insinuates that his mother advised him beforehand, which is untrue, as she never interferes in any way. The mother is a dear soul, and we all love her and are so disgusted with my sister's nasty jealousy. The husband is beginning to feel that way, too, and if this thing keeps on it will mean a break in the home. Is there anything we can do about it? WORRIED SISTER.

Answer: I am afraid not, because jealous people are deaf to reason and blind to truth, so there is no way in which you can appeal to them. They never see anything straight. They never believe anything they want to believe, and no amount of proof ever convinces them that they are mistaken in their vile suspicions.

Whether jealous people are really unprincipled and lacking in all sense of decency and that makes them picture other people, even those they love, as doing the things that they would do themselves, I do not know, but we all know men and women who are always accusing their husbands and wives of crimes they never thought of committing, and who do not believe that they can even speak casually to a man or woman without making an appointment for a rendezvous.

Of all jealousy in the world there is none bitterer or more unreasonable than that which can exist between in-laws. Sometimes it is a mother who is jealous of her son's wife, but just as often it is the wife who is jealous of her husband's mother. That both are utterly jealous without cause makes no difference in the way they hate each other, or the way they fight over the poor helpless man who is the bone of contention between them, and who is literally torn to pieces in their feud.

Of course, mothers-in-law no more run true to form than do women of any other class. Some are good, some bad; some are possessive and never willing to give their sons up; some are meddling; some are hard to get along with. But there are just as many others who would gladly welcome their sons' wives as daughters if they would let them. Many who would no more think of offering a bit of advice to a daughter-in-law than they would to the President. And many others who are an ever-present help in time of trouble in spite of little encouragement.

If a girl gets a good husband, she owes a debt of gratitude to her mother-in-law that she can never repay. For it took mother twenty-odd years of hard work to teach him manners and morals and the amenities of life. It is because Tom's mother taught him good principles and industry and thrift that makes him able to support a wife in comfort.

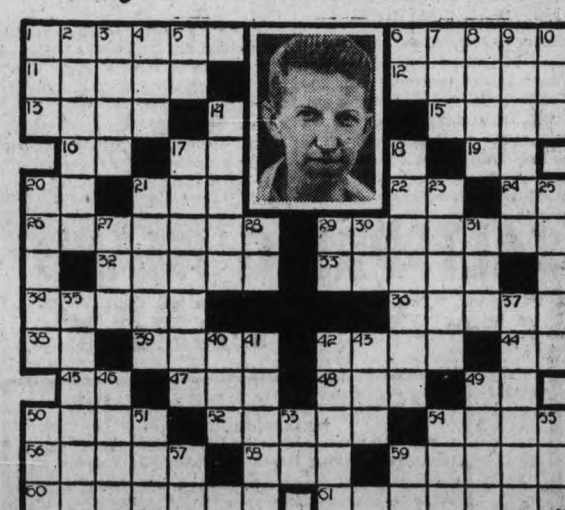

It is because his mother taught him chivalry toward women and neatness and order that makes him a help around the house, instead of somebody who has to be picked up after. It is mother-in-law who can always be depended upon to find a little money to help over a crisis, or to come and lend a hand when the wife is sick, or to look after children while Tom and his wife take a trip. It is mother-in-law who will stand by the wife in any time of dispute, if only the wife has had sense enough to make a friend of her.

If a woman wants to rivet her husband to her with hoops of steel she can do nothing so effective as to get along amiably with her mother-in-law. A man, for the sake of peace, often lets his wife alienate him from his mother, but in his heart he never forgives her for doing so. And that is something every jealous wife may well remember.

IMMIGRATION

Asked, in that connection, of his feelings on immigration for Canada, he replied the matter was one for the Dominion Government alone to decide, and added he was sure the British government would willingly co-operate at any time Canada decided a renewal of immigration was desirable.

He said very much the same thing of the question of Canadian defence: "It is a matter for Canada to decide for herself. Great Britain undertakes the protection of the trade routes of the Empire. We should like to feel that any measures taken by the Dominions are done not necessarily as part of a general scheme for the Empire, but at least in a way that will fit in with the schemes of the other members."

BROAD PROBLEMS

Of the impressions which he had gained of Canada during his two and a half years at Ottawa, Sir Francis mentioned the extent of the problems which the Dominion faced in its vast area and small population, and in the marked differences between the various regions, the Maritimes, the industrial east, the farming prairies and the primary-producing west. He had been particularly struck by the development of mining during the last few years and the prosperity which it had brought with it.

The British government, he said, was very well satisfied with the renewed trade agreements with Canada. In this connection he was asked of the possibility for a broadening of the market for Canadian lumber in British Isles. "You must remember that Britain is an exporting nation," he said. "We must buy from the countries where we sell. Denmark, Norway and Sweden buy more per capita from Britain than Canada does." The average expenditure for British goods for each head of population was $18 in Denmark, against $9.50 in Canada, he added.

Sir Francis asked a number of questions about the climate and way of living of Victoria and the island.

The British High Commissioner came here by way of Prince George, Prince Rupert and Vancouver. On his way back east he will stop off at Emerald Lake and other points in the Rocky Mountains.

He was met at the boat by Premier T. D. Pattullo.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that a day beacon has been established on Walters Island, eastern entrance to Walters Cove, Kyuquot Sound, British Columbia. The beacon consists of a square, concrete base surmounted by a pole carrying a wooden, slatwork drum painted white.

Summer Schedules For Coast Boats

New C.P.R. Daily Service to Seattle Saturday; Faster
Triangle Sailings

Summer schedules of the B.C. Coast Service of the Canadian Pacific will become effective over the week-end.

Commencing Saturday, June 26, a new service will be inaugurated between Victoria and Seattle when the steamers Princess Elizabeth and Princess Joan will be added to this service.

This schedule will be of particular value to tourists and motorists traveling between the Washington mainland and Vancouver Island, as it gives a new morning sailing from Victoria to Seattle, and a late afternoon sailing from Seattle to Victoria, balancing the service already provided by the Princess Kathleen and Princess Marguerite on the Victoria-Seattle leg of the triangle run.

The daily service will be alternated by the Elizabeth and Joan to Seattle daily as follows:

Leave Victoria 11 a.m., arrive Seattle 4 p.m.; leave Seattle 4.45 p.m., arrive Victoria 9.45 p.m.

The two boats will continue to maintain their midnight sailing schedule between Victoria and Vancouver, and will alternate daily in the Vancouver-Nanaimo service.

On Monday, June 28, the C.P.R. crack steamers Princess Kathleen and Princess Marguerite will be operated on a new and faster schedule which will continue until September 7.

The new daily time-table is: Princess Marguerite leave Vancouver 10.30 a.m., arrive Victoria 2.40 p.m.; leave Victoria 5 p.m., arrive Seattle 9 p.m.; Princess Kathleen leave Seattle 9 a.m., arrive Victoria 12.50 p.m.; leave Victoria 1.45 p.m., arrive Vancouver 5.55 p.m.

Sunday Outings By Coach Lines

Excursions to popular island resorts are being run this Sunday by the Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

Coaches leave the Broughton Street depot at 10 a.m. for Jordan River, via the new sea-coast road, for Shawnigan Lake, Goldstream Park and Sooke Harbor. Frequent excursion service to Thetis Lake is also being featured, while an afternoon mystery trip is scheduled to leave Victoria at 2 for a drive to nowhere.

Advance notice has been given by the local company of a Dominion Day excursion to Qualicum Beach. Coaches will leave the depot at 9.15 and will allow excursionists four hours at the beach resort before returning at 7.

Ships Collide At San Pedro

SAN PEDRO, Calif.—American-Hawaiian freighter Arizona and Hammond Steamship Company's lumber freighter Arcata were in collision in the outer harbor late last night. Damage to the vessels was believed slight. The prow of the Arcata struck the starboard side of the Arizona, outbound for Boston.

UNION MAKES SHIP RULING

Maritime Federation Decides
I.L.A. Men to Work on Ships Here

PORTLAND — All work on board American Mail Line ships in British Columbia ports will go to members of the International Longshoremen's Association, while local workmen will be allowed to work the docks, the Maritime Federation of the Pacific decided yesterday.

The federation, still in session here also passed a resolution that the marine cook and stewards unit, go on an eight-hour day.

Further action taken by the Pacific group provided that in the future all winches aboard ship will be oiled by the marine firemen, oilers, water-tenders and wipers' association.

More unit between the east and west coast factions of the shipping organizations was urged in the conference.

The federation was expected to conclude its business the end of this week or the first of next, officials reported. Several resolutions are still to be acted upon.

ORGANIZATION GOING AHEAD

Permanent Airways Set-up Awaits Return of Premier from England

OTTAWA — Permanent set-up of the Trans-Canada Airways Corporation will await the return of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, it was stated today by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport. In the meantime the organization is going forward with provisional directors, of which S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National Railways, is chairman. Establishment of the Trans-Canada system has been largely entrusted to the Canadian National, which will be a majority shareholder.

Meetings of the provincial directors have been held with more or less regularity each Thursday in Montreal, the minister said. Mr. Hungerford had been acting as chairman of the board since the provisional directorate went into action some months ago, said Mr. Howe. It is understood here the position held by Mr. Hungerford in relation to the airways may be made permanent with a chief operating officer appointed to perform the actual management of the system.

Other directors acting provisionally are H. J. Symington, K.C., and Wilfrid Gagnon, Montreal; J. Y. Murdoch, Toronto, all directors of the Canadian National, and three members of the public service, Commander C. P. Edwards, chief of the air services; J. A. Wilson, controller of civil aviation, and George Herring, of the post office.

Honor for Canadian Rail Chief

The honorary degree of Doctor of Mechanical Engineering was conferred upon S. J. Hungerford, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, by the University of Vermont at the 133rd Commencement of that institution held at Burlington recently. The University of Vermont was founded in 1791, the year in which Vermont was admitted to statehood. The degree was conferred upon Mr. Hungerford by Guy W. Bailey, president of the university, in recognition of his notable work in restoring the Vermont railway system after the great flood in that state in 1927. Honorary degrees were also conferred upon five distinguished American citizens. The photograph, taken on the campus before the opening of the ceremonies, shows Mr. Hungerford (left) chatting with President Bailey.

BIDS INVITED ON SHIP WORK

Heating Systems to Be Installed in H.M.C.S. Fraser and St. Laurent

Bids are being invited by the Department of National Defence for the installation of heating systems aboard the Canadian destroyers Fraser and St. Laurent.

Tenders will close with the director of contracts, Department of National Defence, Ottawa, up to noon, daylight saving time, July 14. Plans and specifications may be obtained by application to the department at Ottawa, or the commanders-in-charge at Esquimalt or Halifax.

The Fraser is stationed at Esquimalt and the St. Laurent at Halifax. Both were purchased by Canada from Great Britain.

Train Pilots in Advanced Schools

REGINA—Establishment of at least two government-operated aeronautical schools for advanced training of pilots and instructors to meet the expected demand for transport pilots will be recommended by the Canadian Flying Clubs Association to the Dominion Government.

Decision regarding the recommendation was made at final session of the annual meeting of the association here yesterday. The schools would be equipped with modern aircraft of the transport type, two-way radio and instruments for "blind" and night flying. A school of radio engineering would be operated in conjunction with the aeronautical school.

Motorship To Repair Propeller In Dock

M. S. Borgestad Shifts to Esquimalt Basin Today to Fix Port Damage

Repairs to the port propeller of M. S. Borgestad, which sustained damage by contact with floating logs while she was bound to Victoria from Crofton, will be effected in the government graving basin at Esquimalt, Capt. August Koren announced today.

Tender for repairs to the vessel closed yesterday and the contract was awarded to Yarrows Ltd., the lowest bidder.

While the Borgestad is in dry-dock her port propeller will be removed to permit repairs to the buckled blades and the shaft will be drawn for inspection, and with the ship out of the water the opportunity will be taken to clean and paint the hull.

After loading about 1,000,000 feet of lumber here as part cargo for delivery in the United Kingdom, the Borgestad was due to shift from the Ogdan Point docks at 4 this afternoon for Esquimalt.

The repair work on her, it is expected, will be completed to permit her to be floated again by Sunday, when she is scheduled to go to Vancouver to complete her outward cargo.

The ship has about 2,000 tons of freight aboard at the present time, having taken on 370,000 feet of lumber at Crofton.

TEN IN FLEET

Twelve years old, the Borgestad is owned by the Aktieselskabet Borgestad of Porsgrund, Norway. She is one of a fleet of 10 motorships operated by the company, half of them chiefly in the North Pacific trade.

The fleet was built up by the late Gunnar Knudsen, premier of Norway during the World War.

His grandson, Gunnar Knudsen, was recently in British Columbia and is now on his way back here from the Orient after making a study of shipping conditions on the Pacific.

A first-class carrier of approximately 7,000 deadweight capacity, the Borgestad is specially designed for the easy stowage of lumber, being equipped with large hatches.

She is a twin-screw Diesel motorship and was built by Burmeister and Wain at Copenhagen.

A feature of the officers' accommodation is running fresh water in the cabins and showers in the bathrooms.

On her outward voyage to the United Kingdom, the motorship will call at Port of Colombia, South America, to discharge 700 tons of sacked wheat.

She is under charter to Canadian Transport Company.

Fleet of Planes At Panama Base

COCO SOLO, Canal Zone—The United States navy yesterday recorded as a "routine transfer" the non-stop 3,085-mile flight of 12 planes from San Diego, Calif., to Coco Solo.

The fighting ships landed at this naval base yesterday at 2.23 p.m., P.S.T., after a journey of 27 hours and 58 minutes, the longest mass flight the navy ever tried. Twelve officers and 60 enlisted men flew the planes from the factory to their station here.

DON'T SCRATCH, SOOTHE THE IRRITATION

Quick relief from the maddening itch of eczema, psoriasis, poison ivy, and irritation about the rectum or personal parts is obtained by applying an ointment called Resinol. Leave it on over night. It lessens the desire to scratch, and eases the irritation.

The soothing effect of Resinol takes the sting out of the irritated parts and makes you comfortable. The skin heals sooner, too, with the help of Resinol.

The only base of Resinol Ointment is ideal for penetrating the outer layers of the skin and securing deeper action. Bathing the affected parts first with Resinol Soap hastens the effectiveness of Resinol Ointment. Many nurses suggest and use Resinol—why don't you try it?

Buy Resinol Ointment and Soap in any drug store. For free sample, write to Resinol, Dept. 4, Baltimore, Md.

Many Sea Lions Are Destroyed

NANAIMO — Approximately 2,200 sea lions, adults and pups, were destroyed by the crew of the Dominion Fisheries patrol, Glenchy, according to Capt. A. M. Henderson.

The boat has just completed a three-week cruise of the rookeries and Virgin and Pearl Rocks, near Rivers Inlet, and the Haycocks, on the West Coast of the island, beyond Cape Scott.

The animals are killed by rifle fire. In previous years a machine gun was used. The record number of 2,827 were slain in 1925. Hunting of sea lions, this year, was made more hazardous by the heavy surf. Fishermen in the Rivers Inlet area, which is in the heart of the sockeye district, stated that reducing the number of sea lions this year means conservation of their fishing gear and nets, and also of the fish, which are often destroyed even while in the nets or on the trolling lines.
